VOICES

I said, outlining the rules to the class,
"Any questions?"
Silence.
Except for the feet-shuffling
Throat-clearing noises in
A room of strangers fill with Voice silence, mute and Stillborn in stranger shyness,
Each straining to listen.

I hear your voice now
Throat-deep, spring moist in Eagerness,
In its groping flowering;
And yours, summer got, furious
In its determined uncertainly;
And even yours,
Autumn-leaf dry, brittle
In its wintry fear.

I listen for the heart voice
Fumbling dark in its vascular
Prison,
Attempting to speak and to Reach
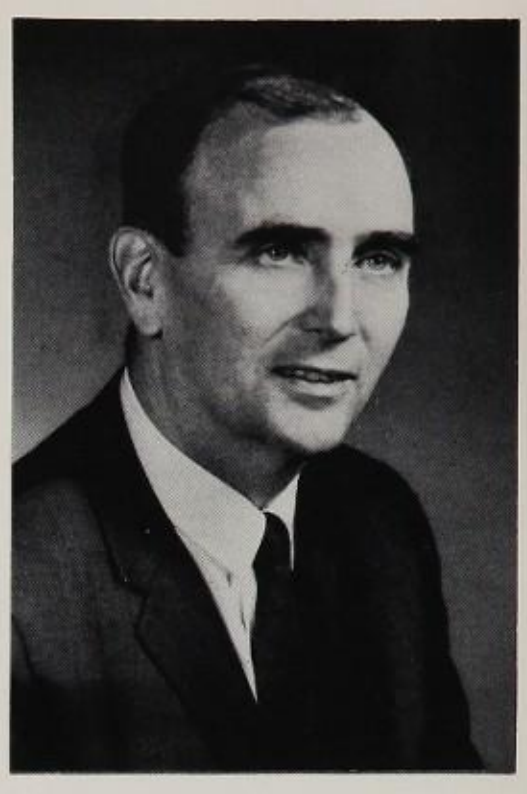
Each to each.

I hear my own voices,
Like from a distant
Echo chamber
Filling the labyrinth of my being
With sounds of my own endless
Season's cycle.

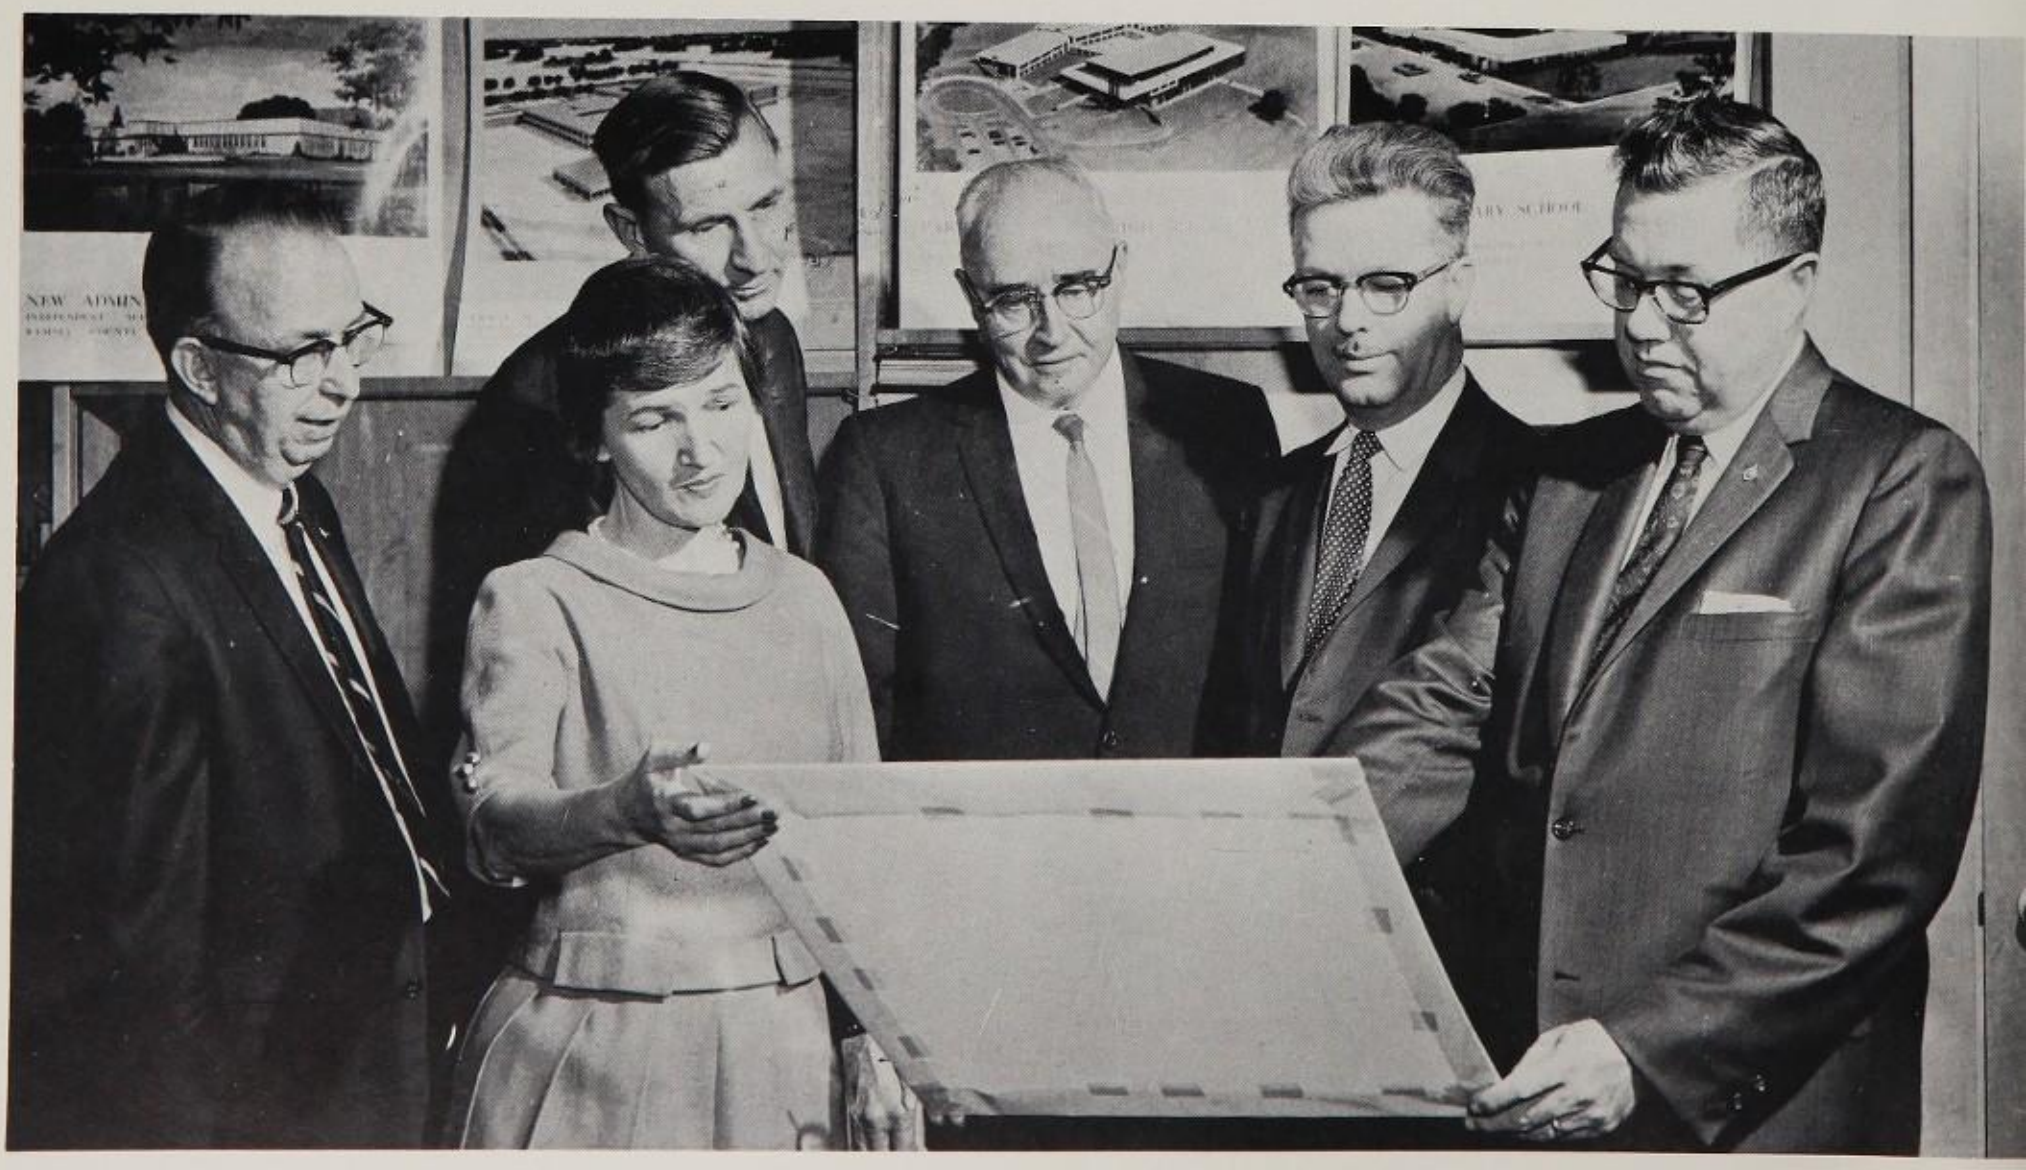
And I listen,
Sometimes I hear the beat
Each to each;
And then
Two souls meet.

MRS. PAULINE K. SCHMOOKLER

Dr. Lloyd Nielsen, Superintendent; Dr. Marjorie Hamlin, Administrative Assistant; and Mr. Paul Borg, Budget Administrator.



DR. LLOYD NIELSEN –
Superintendent of Schools.



BOARD OF EDUCATION – Dr. Morris Nicholson, Treasurer; Mrs. Harriet Jordan, Clerk; Mr. Cortland Blomstrand, Director; Mr. George Seaburg, Chairman; Mr. John Pound, Director; Mr. Howard Wallin, Director.

Dr. Nielsen Presides as New Superintendent

MR. PAUL RAMSETH—Intern.

MR. RICHARD ST. GERMAIN – Assistant Principal.

MR. CURTIS JOHNSON – Principal.

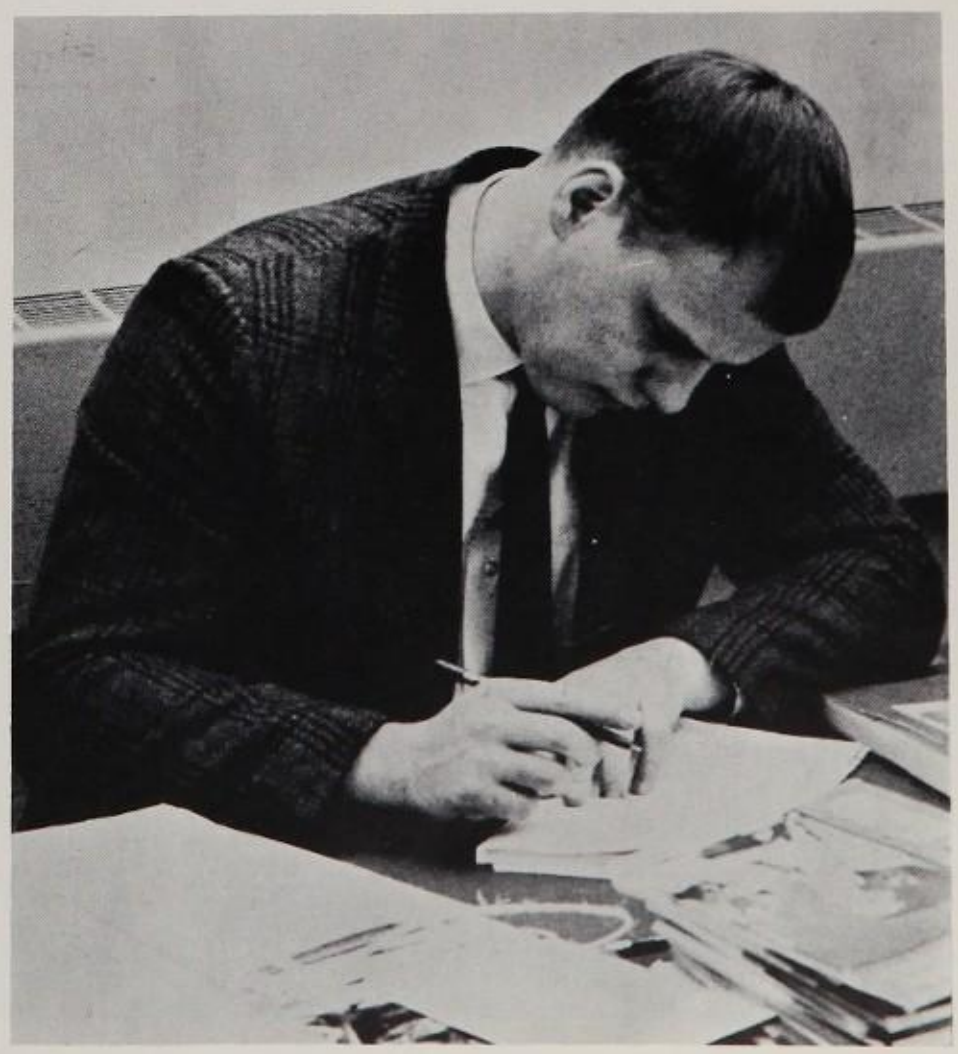
The District Office was the workday domain of our new Superintendent, Dr. Nielsen. A graduate of Harvard, Dr. Nielsen previously had the position of Superintendent of a Morgantown, West Virginia school district.

Our Principal, Mr. Johnson, was named President-Elect of the National Association of Secondary School Principals. He will preside over 35,000 members from the U.S., Canada, and foreign countries. He has served as President of the Minnesota chapter, and since 1964 has been a member of the National Board of Directors.

Mr. St. Germain, our Assistant Principal, completed his second year in that post.

Mr. Ramseth, a 1964 graduate of the University of Minnesota, spent this past year as intern. He formerly taught English and Speech at White Bear High School.

Mr. Johnson confers with Dr. Nickerson, University of Minnesota, and Dr. Hatch, Utah State University, in regard to the Intern Program.



Mr. Ramseth maintains a daily log.

MR. ROBERT ELLIS – Chairman, English 2, World Lit., Thespians.

MISS JUNE ERICKSON – English 11, Amer. History, Journalism, Bighorn.

MR. CHARLES HANILY – English 11, 12, Fall Play.

MRS. MARILYN HOLM – English 10, 11, News Bureau.

MR. FRED HUSMANN – English 10, 12, Scope, Quill & Scroll.

MRS. DOROTHY MAYESKE – English 10, 11.

MRS. LILLIAN ROLLINS– English 11, 12.

MRS. PAULINE SCHMOOKLER – English 12, World Lit.

Last to leave the Guthrie after a stirring performance of "Harper's Ferry" are a few English teachers and teaching assistants.

English Encourages Creative Communication

Mrs. Schmookler pensively considers an unexpected response.

MRS. JANET SCHROEDER – English 10, 11, 12, Amer. History, Applied Biology, Refresher Math.

MISS JUDITH SCHULTZ – English 12, Le Dra Mus Art.

MR. KENT SMITH – English 10, 11, Cross Country.

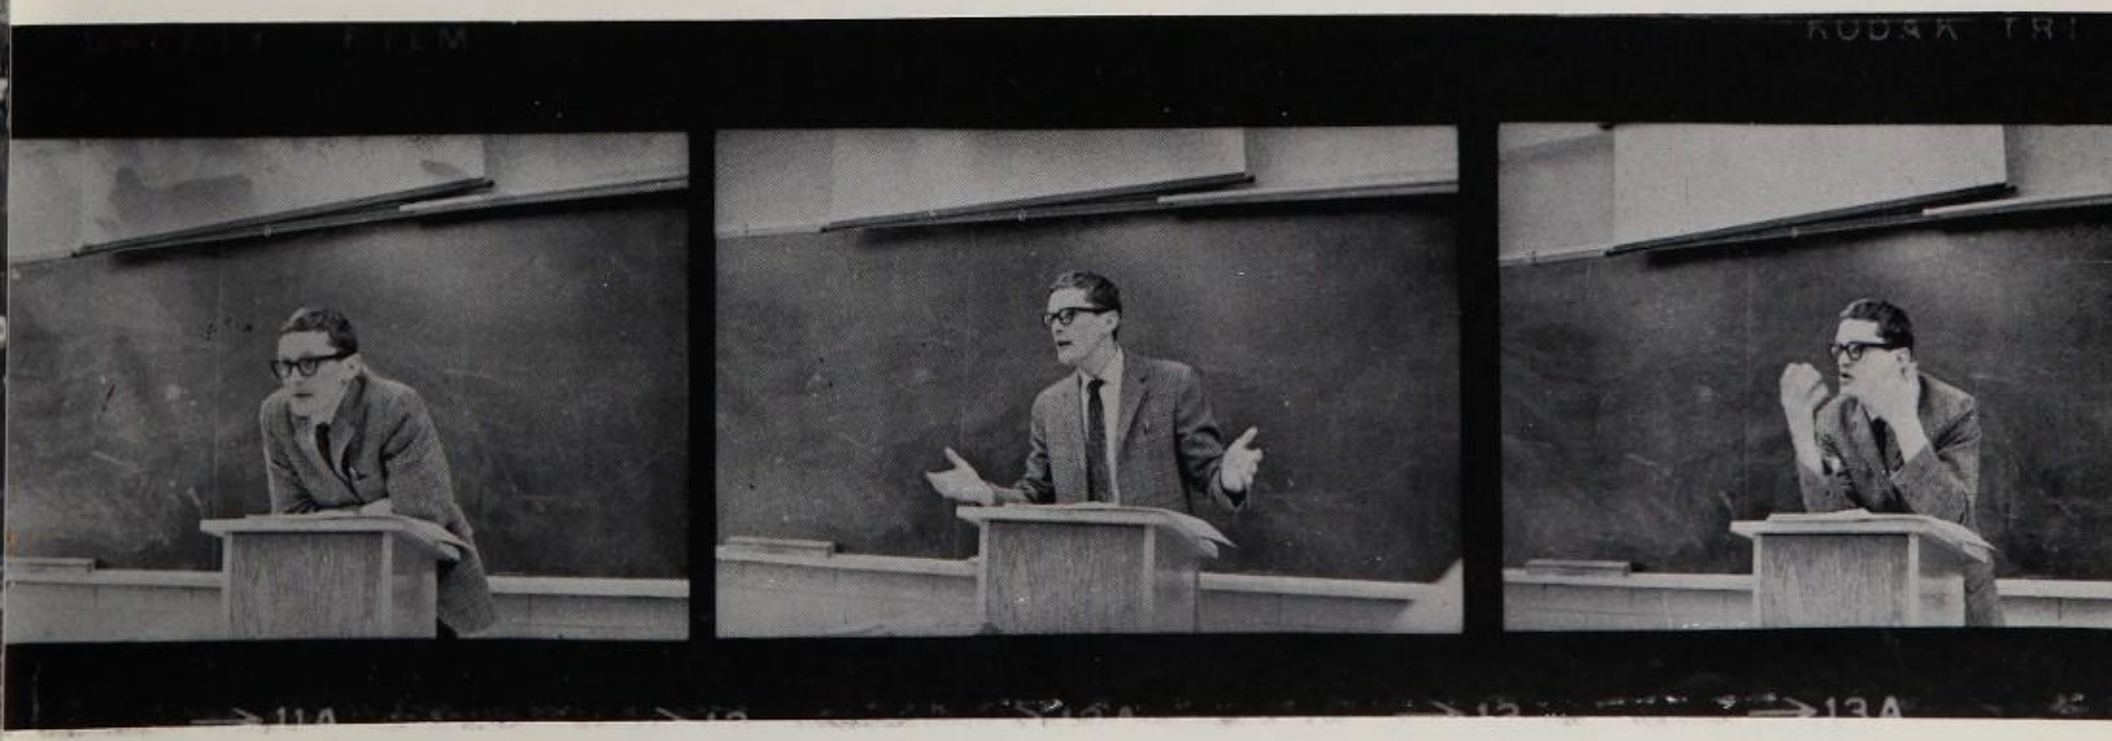
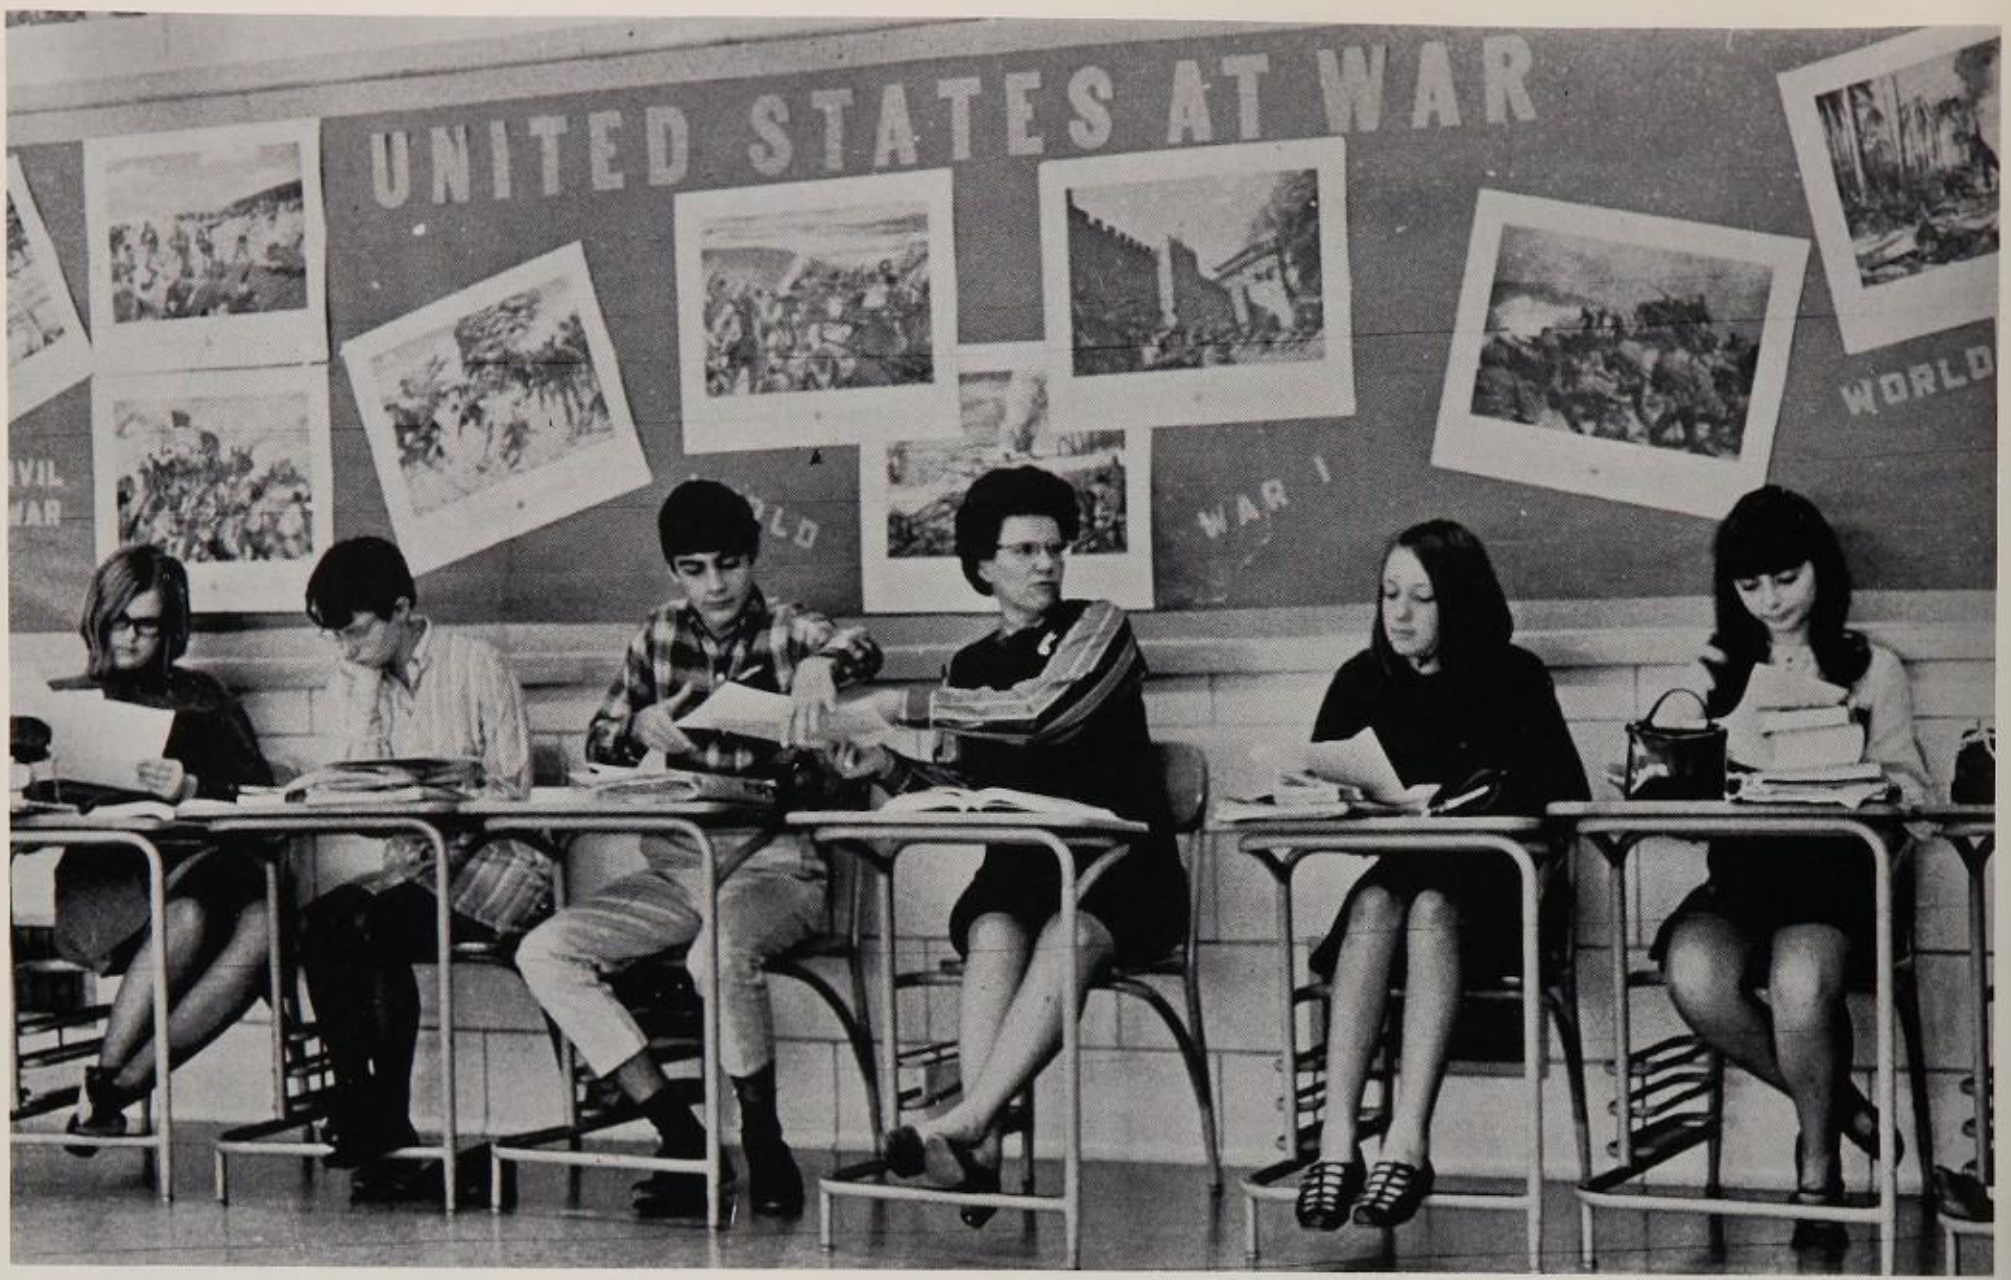
Learning to communicate with creative expression in writing and speaking has long been the goal of the English department. This was impressed on each student as he fulfilled the only course required all three years of high school. Sophomores will long remember the stories of Dickens, Twain, and Hemingway. Hawthorne, Cooper, and Steinbeck occupied much of the time of the Junior American Literature classes. Seniors fought the battles of The Illiad, meditated through Oriental literature, and played with Shakespearean literature. Members of the Junior class saw "Harper's Ferry" at the Guthrie, and the Senior class viewed "She Stoops to Conquer."



Mr. Hanily, director of the fall play "Sweeney Todd the Barber", lectures on contemporary theater.



Mrs. Bone begins distribution of material dealing with the history portion of American Studies class.

MRS. ARIENNE BONE – Chairman, American Studies, T.O.

MR. GORDON GENZ – Senior Social Studies, Hockey, Baseball.

MR. PAUL HAMRE – American History, Sr. Social Studies, T.O.

MRS. MYRA ARENDS HENNES – American History

MR. CURTIS EARL JOHNSON – American Studies, Sr. Social Studies.

MR. ALAN MESCHKE – Sr. Social Studies, R.E.A.P.

MR. RICHARD MRAZ – American Studies, Eng. 11, Golf.

MR. MICHAEL NOESEN Psychology, Activity Coordinator.

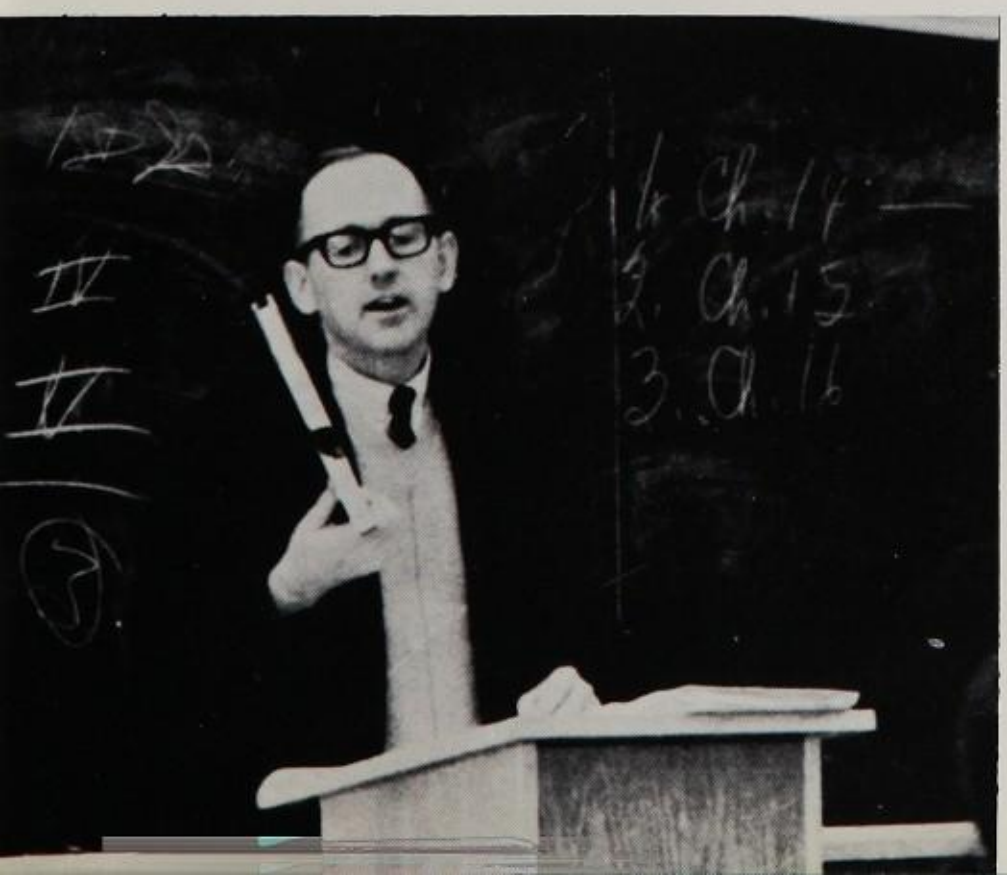
Enumerating important points, Mr. Johnson lectures to his American Studies class.

MR. LARRY STEINBERG
Sr. Social Studies, American History.

MR. JAMES WARREN –
World History, World Affairs, World Lit., Student Council.

Social Studies Relates Man To Environment

Mr. Hamre offers a reading suggestion relative to current stock market study.



Social Studies has a new look! The past year has been an exploratory year for this department. New materials, projects, and films were examined and a survey was taken of materials and of student attitudes. Simulation, Harvard materials, and inductive teaching may be practiced at Ramsey next year. Miss Erickson, Mr. Hamre, Mr. Meschke, and Mr. Victorine were new additions to the Social Studies staff this year and Mr. M. Anderson taught Psychology in addition to Biology. Due to the great demand, two classes of T. O. were taught: one by Mrs. Bone and the other by Mr. Hamre. It has been a fluid year for the department and as a result changes may occur in the future.

MRS. VIOLA FRENZEL
English 10, Latin I, III, F.T.A.

MR. DAVID CAUSTON
German I, II, Baseball.

MISS ELLEN DIGIAMBATTISTA – Chairman, Spanish I, III, IV, French II, Spanish Club.

Guten Tag! Bonjour! Hola! Salute! Everyone recognizes these phrases as foreign greetings, but to many students at Ramsey they are much more. Each phrase is the first thing every German, French, Spanish, and Latin student learned in their respective language classes. Movies and tape recordings unreeled in aiding the students to learn the correct grammar usage. Interesting supplements to the course included: use of the language labs, cultural readings, original writings, conversation, reading books, and for fun, folk singing and word games.

This year, the Latin facilities were expanded to offer the language in a two year course.

Communication And

Mrs. Johnson listens attentively to student interpretation.

Mr. Causton offers Linda Siewert some advice for a German report.

MISS KAREN GULLICKSON – French I, Spanish II, A.F.S.

MRS. CAROLYN JOHNSON – French II, III, IV, French Club, A.F.S.

MRS. SUSAN SCHROEDER – German II, III, IV, German Club, A.F.S.

MRS. JANET MARQUART – Speech, Spring Play.

MR. NORBERT ROBERTSON – Speech, English 10, Cross Country, Swimming, Track.

Barriers Dissolve In Language Speech Classes

A strategically located mobile reminds speakers of gesture.

Students, intent on making the most-used form of communication more comprehendable, gave speeches on topics from flyswatters to Johnny Unitas.

Besides learning the basic speech form, young speakers should have learned the answer to, "What is communication?" and the importance of the gesture and the visual aid in presenting their information.

Have you ever forgotten what you wanted to say before the chairman recognized you – or tried to sell something that absolutely no one wanted? Parliamentary procedure, and the methods of persuasion presented such problems in speech class.

Miss Berg, Mr. Robertson, and a new teacher to Ramsey this year, Mrs. Marquart, helped Ramseyites develop the skill that is often overlooked in preference to reading and writing; that is constructive speaking.

MR. MARCUS BROTTEM – Plane Geometry, Baseball.
MR. WILLIAM COSSETTE – Plane Geometry, Refresher Math, Hockey.
MR. ELDON EDDY – Algebra II, Business Math, Basketball.

MR. ROBERT EMAHISER – Algebra I, Business Math.
MR. EARL IRELAND – Algebra I, Geometry.
MR. RICHARD KUEHNE – Business Math, Technical Math, Hockey.

Mathematics Is The Language Key To Univers

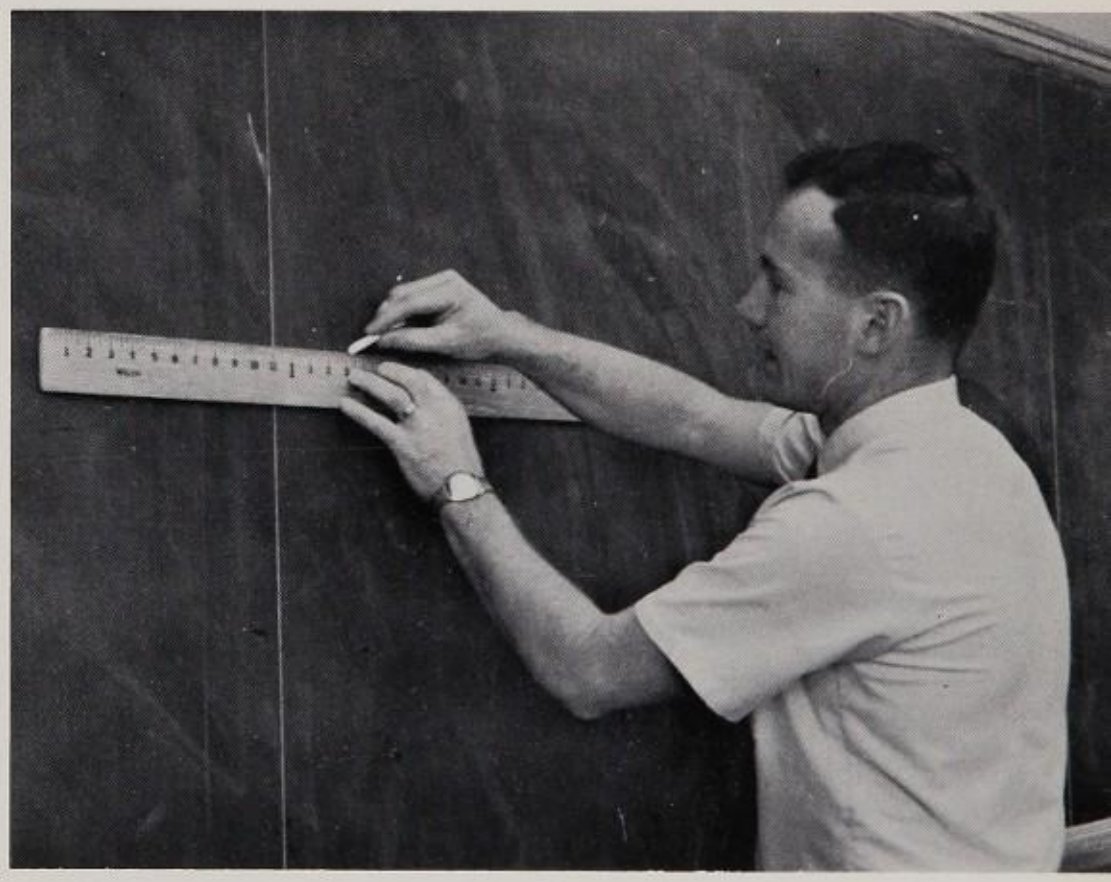
Dana Erickson hesitates over an Advanced Math test problem.

Scientific Study

Math this year offered more courses than our traditional Algebra I and II, Refresher Math, Geometry, Statistics-Probability, Business, Technical, and Advanced Mathematics. The new field opened to the students in the department was the Computer Activity. This year it was programmed as a fifth hour activity; next year it will be taught as a class.

Ramsey was also involved in the first year of a three year study on the sequence in which courses should be offered. The purpose of the study is to find evidence to settle the old argument between those who favor the Geometry-Algebra sequence and those who prefer Algebra, the Geometry. Four Sophomore classes from Kellogg and Ramsey will be observed to determine with which sequence achievement is higher.

Our math department has been striving to communicate to the students information to create readiness for dealing with new problems which our society is presenting.



Mr. Cossette begins to perform a geometric construction.

MR. DUANE NELSON – Advanced Math, Football, Tennis, Senior Executive Board.
MR. DUANE SKIE – Algebra II, Plane Geometry, Football, Gymnastics, Track.
MR. ROY STULTS – Chairman, Algebra II, Geometry, Statistics, Industrial Arts Workshop.

MR. GORDON ANDERSON – Biology, Chemistry, Jr. Acad. of Science.

MR. JAMES CARLIN – Co-Chairman, Physics, Baseball.

MR. THEODORE MOLITOR – Co-Chairman, Chemistry, Football, Track, Chemistry Assistants.

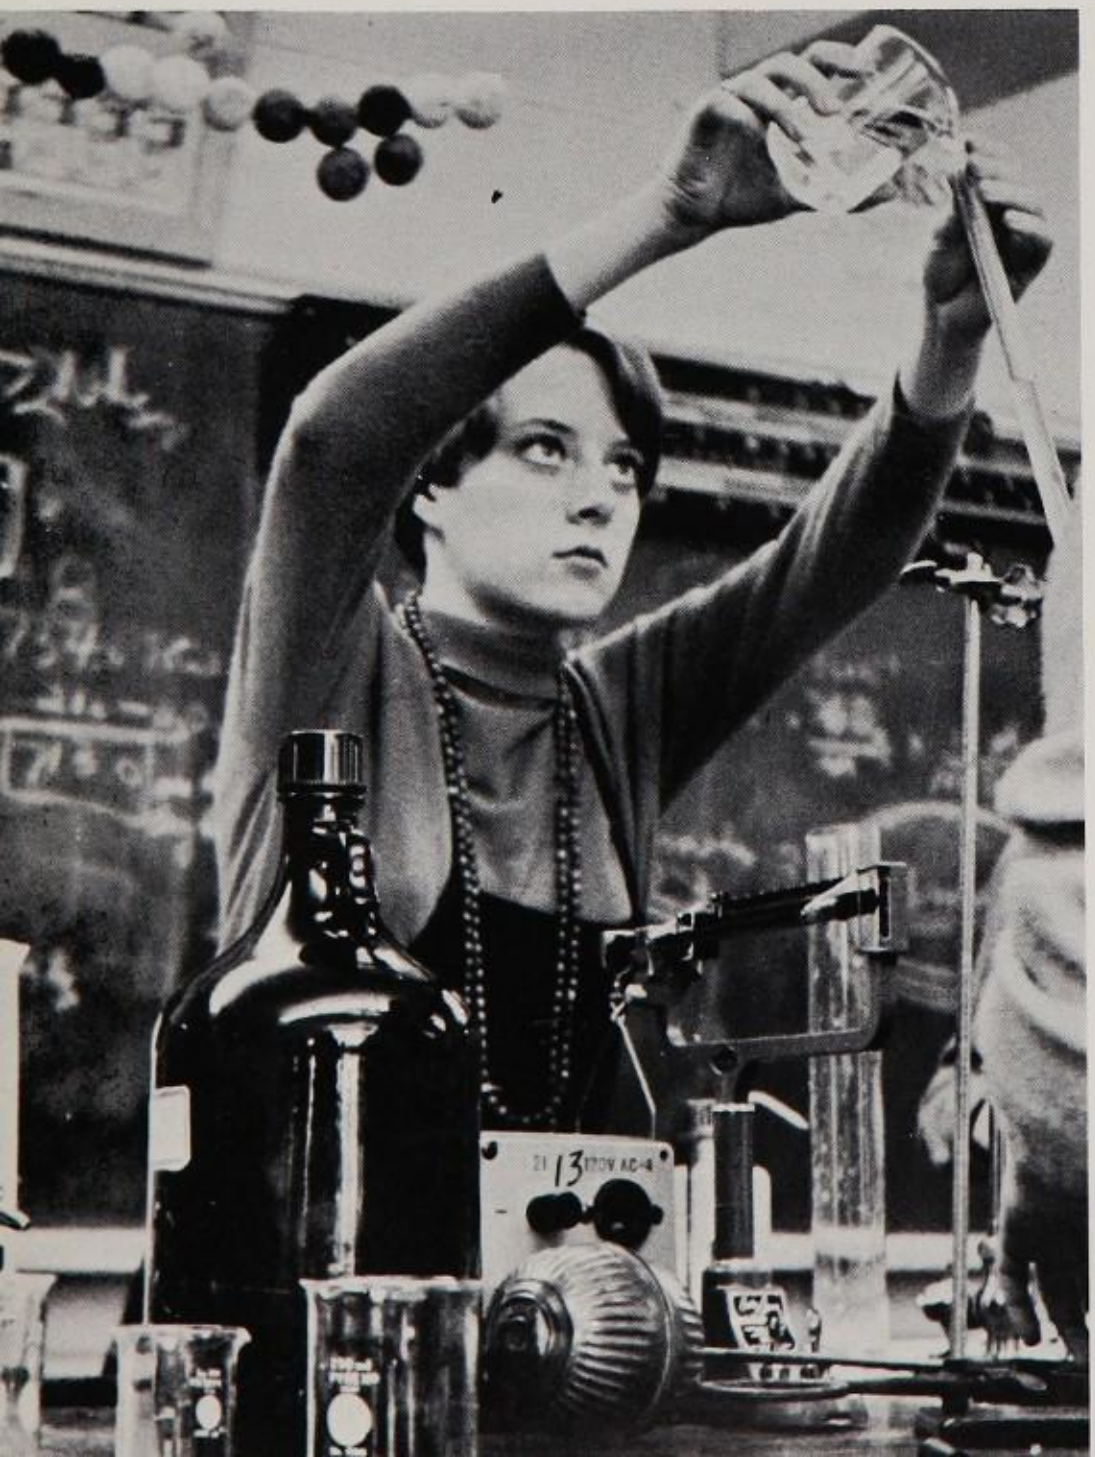
Science Instills The

The newest problem the science teachers had to contend with this year, along with keeping lab assistants in order, was the mandatory use of safety goggles by students in all lab experiments and demonstratons. As Mr. Skogen states, "You never know when your pencil might jump off the table and hit you in the eye." With the loss of a faculty member the science department had to juggle schedules. Students saw Mr. G. Anderson in front of chemistry and biology labs. With another year of experience behind them the teachers learned which experiments to cut or alter, which methods work smoother in labs and are most important.

Diane Jamieson experiments to neutralize an acid solution.



Ann Irving and other Biology students transfer a culture.

MR. WILLIAM ROSSELIT – Biology, Biology Assist., Chess Club.

MR. CLYDE SKOGEN – Chemistry.

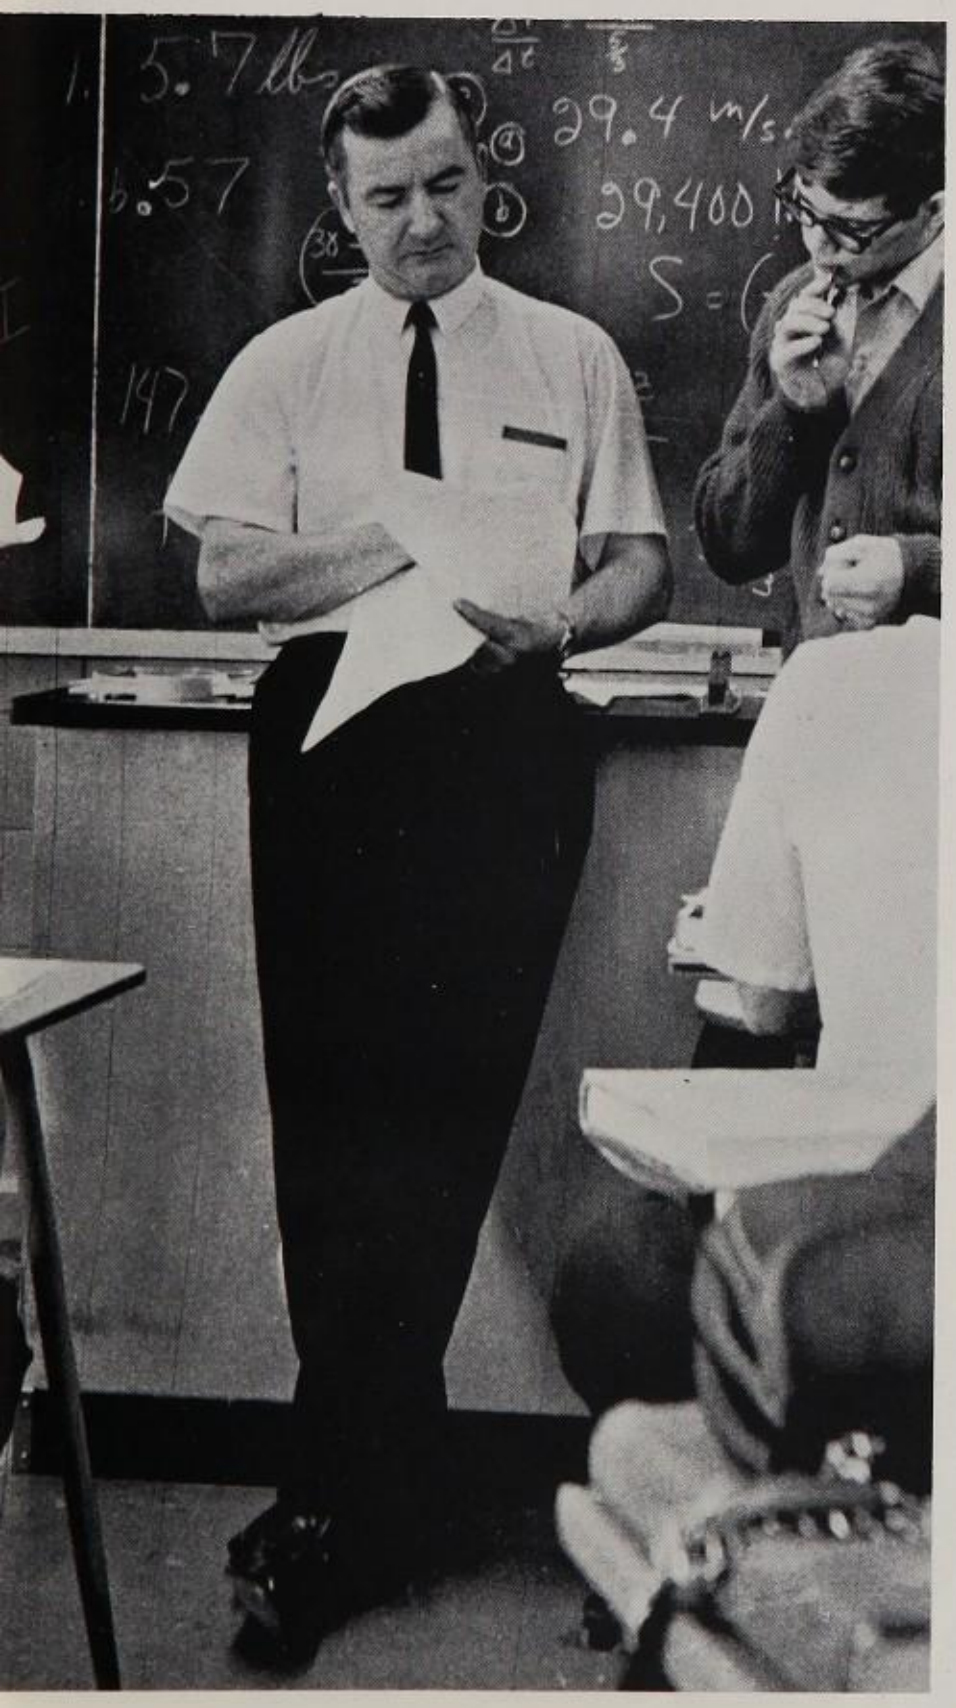
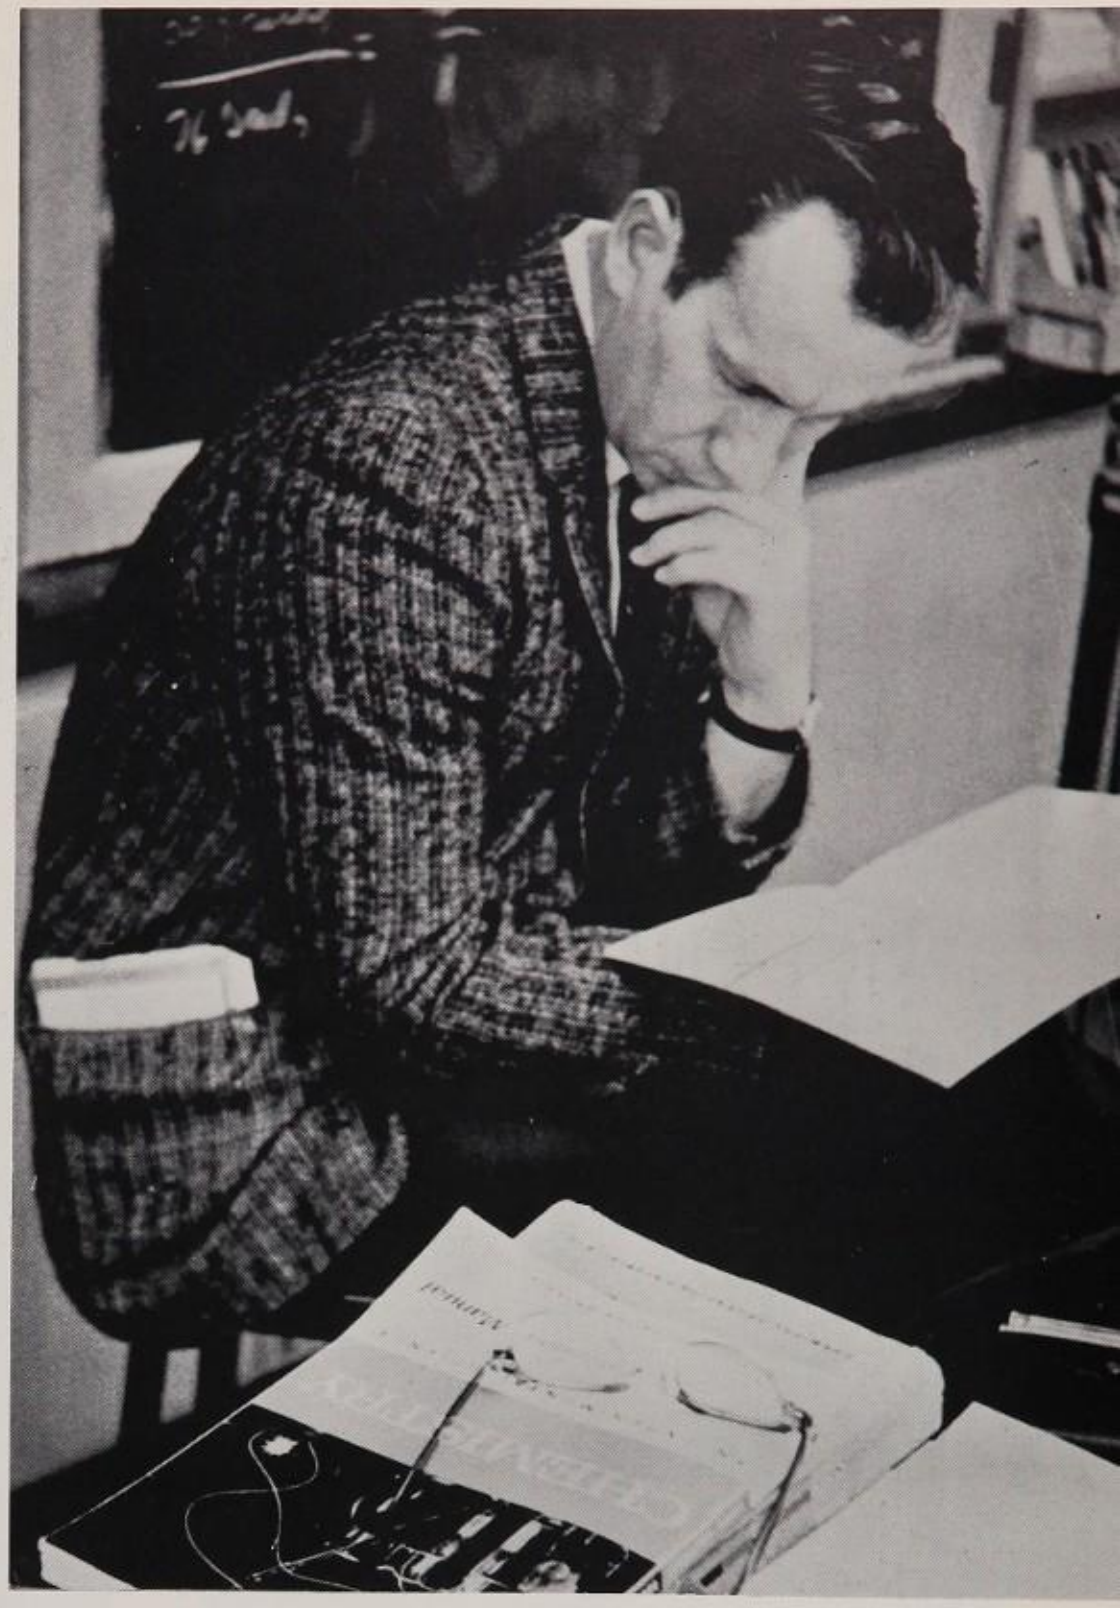
Quest for Knowledge

Mr. Carlin explains an error in Jim Luey's physics calculations.





Mr. Thompson plans which chemicals to use for a class project.

Jann Oskey puts the finishing touches on her clay project.

The art rooms continually looked like exhibit galleries, displaying every medium available to I, II, III, and IV year art students. Amateur artists tried their hand in water colors, oils, sculpture, and mobiles. The increased budget for 1967 created greater possibilities for work in more medias. The student art acquisition program, which purchased students' handiwork, acquired various exciting pieces of work. Many of these were displayed in the hall gallery at the fourth annual showing in conjunction with the spring play. This past year has shown enlarged interest in the field of art which made necessary the addition of one more art room.

MR. MERLEN CLERCX – Art I, II-A, III.
MR. ROLAND FISCHER Chairman, Art II-A, II-B, III, IV, Art Services, Spring Play, Set Director.
MR. ROBERT TUBBESING – Art I, II-B, III, Photography.

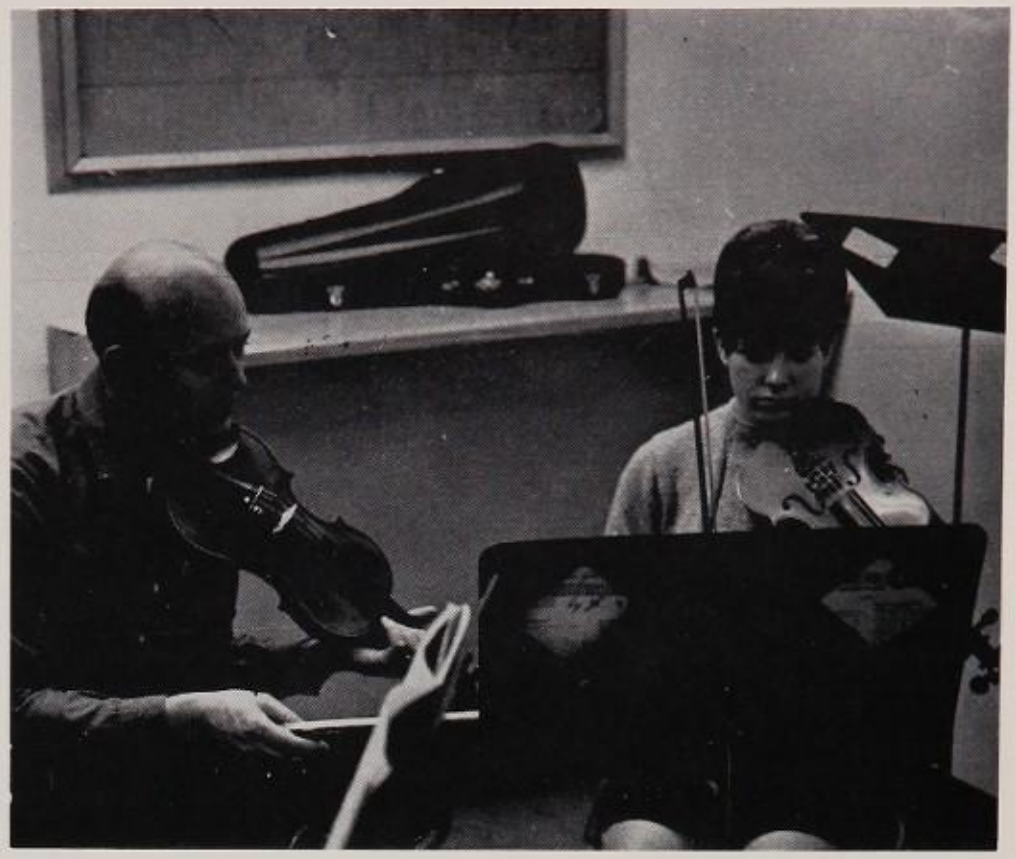
Aesthetic Expression

Throughout the year the various departments of the organization commonly referred to as Band provided music for many occasions. The divisions under the title "Band" are: varsity and concert bands, pep, stage, and marching bands, as well as the many solo and ensemble units. Each of these groups performed excellent concerts this year, with the exception of the pep band which had another fine year playing for the hockey, basketball, and wrestling contests.

Once again under the direction of Mr. James Peterson, who was on leave from Ramsey to Maylasia last year, the orchestra presented some fine concerts in the fall and an excellent "Pops Concert" in February. In his fifteenth year of direction at Ramsey, Mr. Brost guided the choir and glee clubs through another very successful year of performances. Work began early in the year on the wonderful Christmas concert which was presented in December.



Mr. Peterson reminds Kathy Lossie of the key change.

Mr. Brost sings a cappella.

MR. JOE YANTES – Co-ordinator, Trades and Industry, Football.

MR. LOREN HANSEN – Printing.

A wide variety of projects emerged from the Industrial Arts Department during the course of the year. Metal shops turned out many projects such as firewood containers and extra projects such as go-carts. Wood shop saw the usual amount of bookshelves and gun cabinets take shape among the many items built. Students in Electricity learned to wire electrical circuits and small electrical engine systems as well as doing individual interest projects. Engineering and Architectural Drafting involved the detailed drawing of home and industrial buildings along with an original house plan by each student, and time permitting, a miniature model of their house. The printing department was responsible for most of the programs printed for the many events at Ramsey this year. Each student was allowed to print various things which he wanted as well.

Ec. Stress Practicality

There were many courses offered at Ramsey under the general title of Home Economics, which was very misleading to most students. Many of the courses such as Family Living and Child Development were open to boys as well as girls. In the Family Living course the students learned everything from the effect of dating attitudes on marriage to managing the family income. A new subject called Boy's Foods was offered this year. It proved quite successful as many of the boys found it both interesting and exciting to learn how to bake and cook. Other courses offered include Food Management, Fashion Arts, Interior Design, and Modern Living.

Bus. Ed. Teaches Office and Managerial Skills

The business education department worked this year to provide practical training for students interested in office work. Students developed skills and work habits that are necessary for immediate and future employment.

Businessmen in the area cooperated with the school by providing training stations and on-the-job supervision for the student trainees.

Together with Kellogg's office education, trades and industries, and distributive education departments, Ramsey held a banquet at McGuire's in April.

Notehand, a new course added this year, was similar to shorthand except personal use and not speed was stressed.

Business law, also a new course, taught basic law and included trips to the Roseville Municipal Court, the Minnesota Supreme Court, and the Ramsey County Court.

No student will ever forget the many hours spent in he gymnasium, health room, and outside on the playing ield. For many students who continued into advanced hy. ed. however, the sophomore year of conditioning he body and learning skills, emphasizing total physical itness was only a beginning. The fifty or one hundred it-ups, six hundred yard walk-run, and pull-ups were ust as grueling for them as for others. Every student robably had one or more favorite sports among the ide variety offered. One could choose from tennis, peedball, basketball, volleyball, or any individual sports uch as ping-pong, badminton, shuffleboard or co-edu- ational rhythms.

Subjects taught in health class include the physiology f the human body, posture, personality, mental and motional health, and a review of tobacco, narcotic, and lcoholic effects on the body. Anyone seen Miss Farrier arrying a skeleton through the halls???

Ramsey's two very capable librarians, Miss Hokanson and Mrs. Holste, spent a busy year keeping the vast amount of library materials in order, adding newly acquired materials, and assisting students in their daily work in the library.

Mr. Davis, our courageous Driver's Education instructor, reigned again as Number One in putting Ramseyites in the driver's seat. During the twelve hours of practice each student learned the fundamentals of manipulating a car. A test similar to the one required to obtain a driver's license was given at the end of the course.

The audio-visual department under the watchful eye of Mr. Hanson provided all the necessary equipment and materials for supplementary study.

Miss Thompson, school nurse, was responsible for keeping health records up to date, scheduling shots, and handling minor accidents at Ramsey.

Preparing next year's schedules, revising this year's and helping seniors in their post-graduate planning were some of the more important tasks of Ramsey's counselors.

Theresa Antkowiak gives Cindy Browne a pass to see her counselor.

. . . images in my mind as an end sees a beginning . . .

The first image,
Always bright and strong;
Of an impregnable rock,
I never knew.
Always speaking —
Deathly mute.

And clearing away that traditional stench,
I catch a glimpse of another image;
I saw teachers . . . relatively few . . .
Standing in a straight line, deathly still;
Showered by a bright light.
Cast out, I drowned in the darkness.

I awoke from my dream;
A mist lifted from my eyes.
A student tried to move the light source.
A student tried to alter the line.
Suddenly, rebirth;
Minds generated new thought.
We prospered for a moment . . .
Then devastation!
A great black plague devoured our remains.
Death in the shadow of apathy.

Now in a fog, I see a clouded image
. . . the image of a piece of paper . . .
The rock said the key to life
A teacher said — from me
A student saw a death,
but I see a birth —

Weak fresh from the womb,
We emerge.
For a moment we cry;
Then, stepping forward, we falter.
Yet we break into a run;
Daring not to look back,
We climb a new mountain.
— We triumph over some new monster.
But this time, finally this time,
On our own . . .

UNDERCLASSMEN

THE SILENT MUSICIAN

The Silent Musician
plays the song
on windbells striking sunshine strings,
as prayer-ful singers give it voice,
"floating on with perfect time;
translucent chorus of hidden rhyme". . .

Though not heard, the wind-flung whispers,
laughing rainbows, luring rivers,
all the verses of the sun-song linger through the night.

The Junior Class Of 1969

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Mike Labalestra, President; Candy Erickson, Treasurer; Julie Johnson, Secretary; Neal Murray, Vice-President.

Huckleberry Finn . . . The Scarlet Letter . . . and The Jungle are titles that became quite familiar to the class of '69. Few Juniors will soon forget the MSAT tests . . . especially their scores. Many of the opportunities offered to the Juniors included American Studies, Chemistry, and Geometry. First place in the second annual broomball tournament brought fame to Mr. Johnsons team during snow week. The Junior Class Homecoming float, class rings, their first prom and all the work involved in decorating the walls, floors, and stage will long be remembered, along with the Junior battle cry, many research papers, and the hall in front of the library before 8:00 A.M.

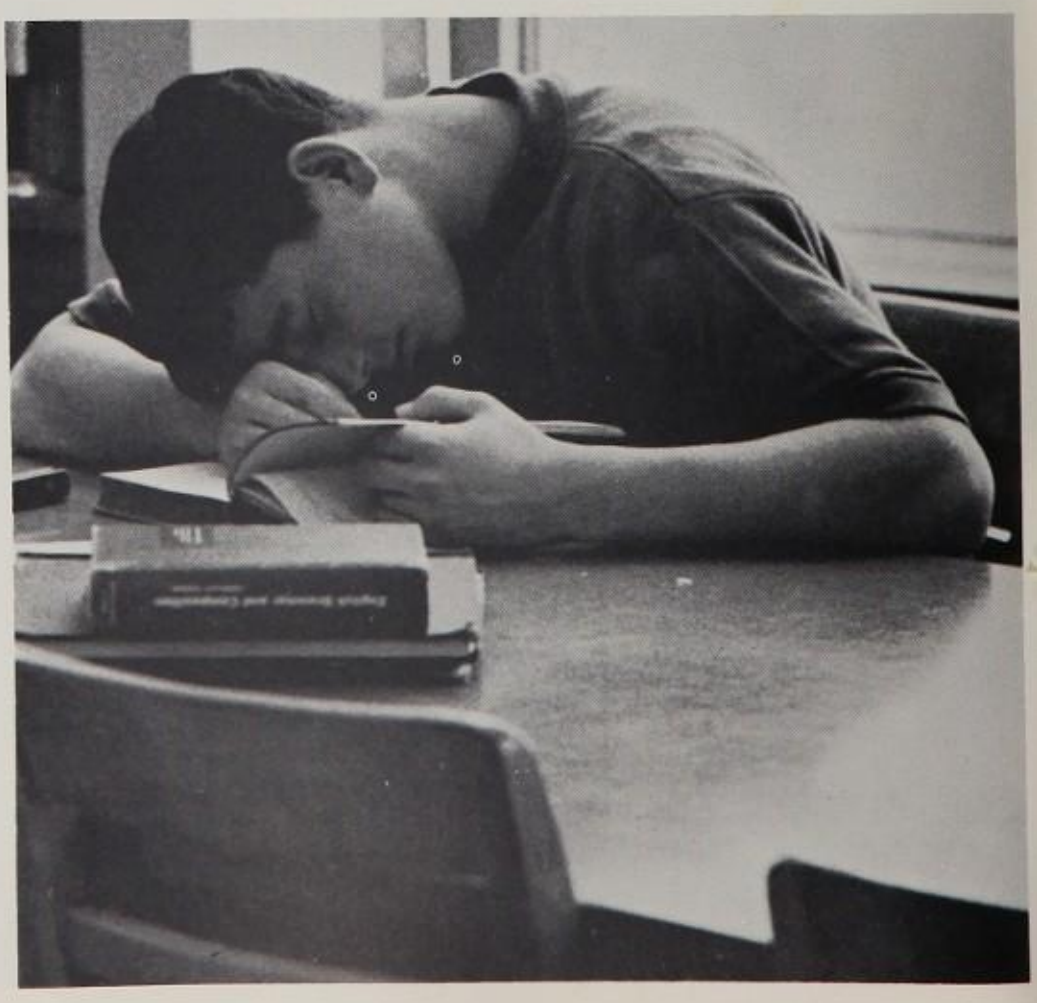
For the sophomores, this year at Ramsey began during the last week of summer vacation. While other students were enjoying the State Fair, the sophomores were attending orientation week and taking tests. They came back after Labor Day with room numbers memorized, and were ready to begin their first year at Ramsey. They became initiated to football games and Homecoming, and saw their float "Sizzle Sibley" parade around the stadium. After a few months of struggling experiences such as Silas Marner, Julius Caesar, rhythms and health, the sophomores elected their officers who presided over executive board meetings where official class business was taken care of. After weeks of practice, eight girls were chosen as "B" squad cheerleaders and attended B-squad wrestling and basketball games. During Snow Week Lynn Mann and Bill Cardinal were elected as sophomore royalty. They reigned over the week as the sophs participated in all activities with enthusiasm. As the sophs cleaned up after the prom, the year closed with expectations of two more purposeful years remaining at Ramsey.



SOPHOMORE EXECUTIVE BOARD – K. Olson, M. Graiziger, B. Utecht, P. Fisher, C. Fitzgerald, S. Loveridge, C. Browne, A. Irving, S. Rehnberg.

PENS, VOICE, AND SONG

Scrolls from feathered pens may gather dust but still create a beauty,
opening minds to worlds of fantasy, and portraying reality with messages of emotion; the ivory tower image lives on.
And

Chorus' resound, giving speech to brimming hearts in notes of harmony; they cry out warnings and plead for righteousness in lands close to ruin; and their songs of love and joy chime forever.

Blending into another sound, horns
and drums beat rhythm, blues, and jazz;
exploring the
Never Never Land of the soul
disguised in the magic of music.
But speech too has a place:

Radicals to reactionaries have something to say,
even if ears turn away from the message; debates, speeches and protests clothe expression by the tongue as all the while

Arms stretch and spread to gather friends from across the turbulant seas; exploring together.

Teens Can Council

Communication and Involvement was the underlying theme of this year's Student Council's activities. Under the guidance of Mr. Warren, Tom Bierstecker and the executive board, the council became involved in the lives of the students at Ramsey. The council sponsored a free outside movie which proved to be successful. The annual Student Council sponsored paper drive saw the Jr. class win the reward of a Laurel and Hardy movie. The Baby Ram contest, Computor Dance and class collections collected $774.44 for the United Fund. The controversial Father Groppi resolution, although finally defeated, provided the student body to become involved in social concerns. The biggest council sponsored project was Snow Week, headed by committee chairman, Donna Buckman. The council also presented many educational lyceums including "Red China: Year of the Gun."

The biggest and most appreciated improvement of this year's Canteen Council was that they arranged to have unionized bands this year at as many dances as possible. The student body responded favorably at the Sadie Hawkins, Computor and Christmas Dance. The Canteen Council members do more than decorate, they must work at registration and coat check during the dance, which doesn't leave much time for dancing.

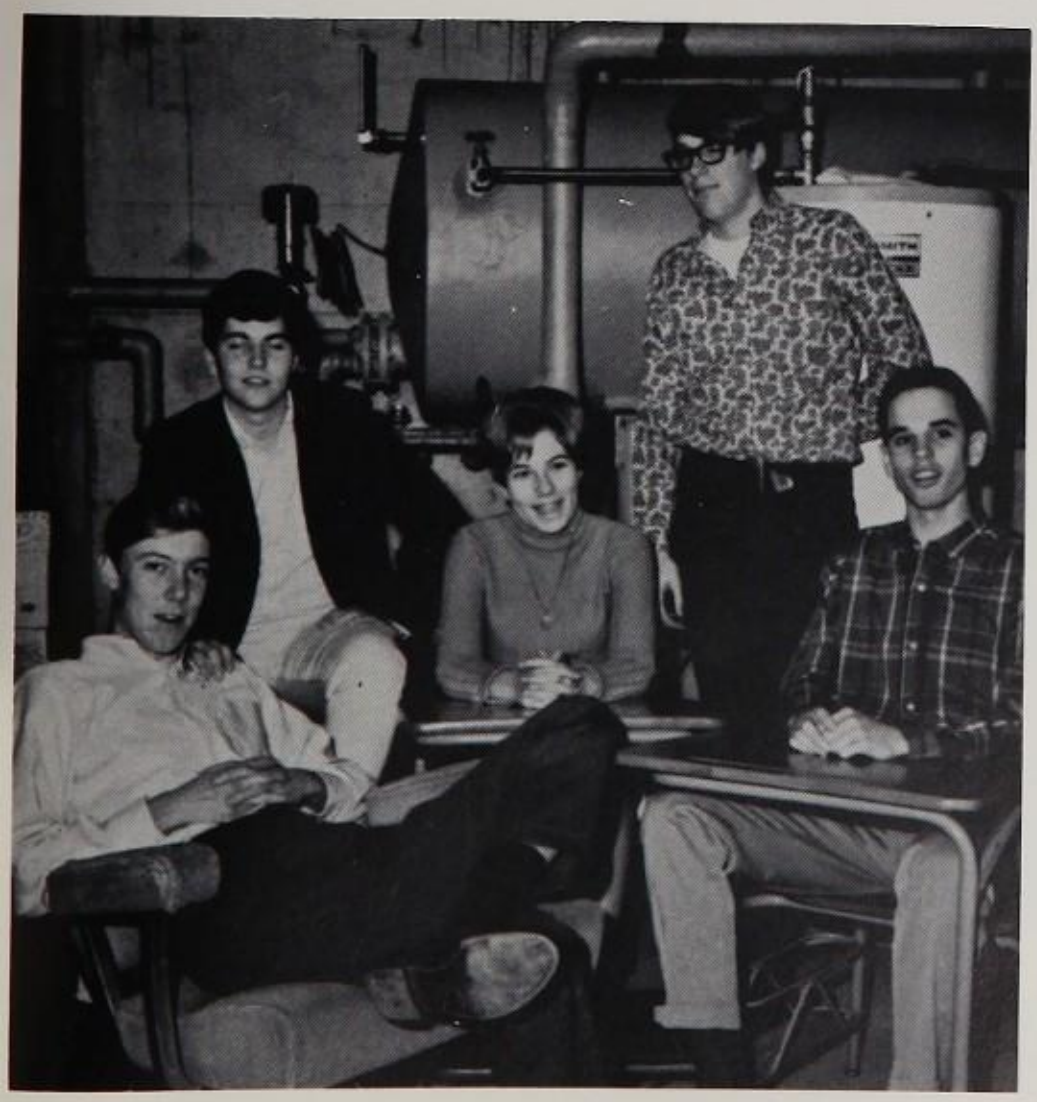
Crime is Debatable



Under the leadership of the executive board, with Steve Korstad as president, the Honor Society's first decision was to appropriate $100. for student art acquisition, $50. to AFS and service awards of $20. apiece. They sponsored and sold tickets to the Christmas movie "North by Northwest" and used the profits for the induction and tea this spring. This spring 45 juniors and 32 seniors were selected on qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and service.

The largest project undertaken by the Junior Academy of Science this year was video-taping instructional tapes for the Science Department. The first of these epics was a Centigram Balance Film for use in Chemistry or Biology classes. Other activities included speakers such as Dr. William Riley, a U. of M. neurologist who presented topics of interest of all members of the Junior Academy.

"Crime is Debatable". On this assumption our debators researched different criminal incerstigation procedures. Our Ramsey debators strived to deep up wit Ramsey's outstanding debate record and succeeded with a first in Region and seventh in state.

The four programs that Le Dra Mus Art was involved with dealt with aspects of literature, drama, music, and art. Members enriched their cultural experiences by listening to speakers and watching demonstrations throughout the year.

Reap has been very active investigating by research, debating, and inviting guest speakers. Should the punishment for the use of marajuana be lessened? This was one of the questions which they dealt with.

The Thespians attended a number of theater performances at the University of Minnesota and at the East Side Theater. Reading and then talking about the plays made seeing the plays more enjoyable. "Lottery" was the one-act play put on in the spring as lyceum for the student body. Each of the 25 members have fulfilled the requirements in different aspects in play production.

The Christmas spirit could not have been better expressed than the choir with the production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors". Cast and produced entirely by the choir, it was the first opera that Ramsey had presented. Our award winning choir, for the entire history of Ramsey won four stars in the District to go on to the State. A number of concerts were presented during the year including the Passion According to St. John at Central Lutheran Church and Christmas concerts. The Glee Club received two stars in District competition and went on to the State. They participated in a combined Girls' Choir Festival.

Mr. Erickson instructs his band members in the art of trumpet playing.

Concert Band, juniors and seniors, under the direction of Mr. Charles Erickson, joined with the sophomore members of the Varsity Band two weeks before school opened last fall to practice marching on the football field. Majorette Teri Holberg led the band through some interesting and difficult maneuvers during the football season halftime shows. WCCO radio honored the band in October by naming them State High School Prep Parade Band-of-the-Week. Following the contest in April, in which they strove to repeat last year's "A" performance, the band made its annual trip to perform for out-state schools. A new addition by the department this year was the monthly solo and ensemble concerts. Individual members of the two bands performed before an audience. But the highlight of the year for all the band members was the decision to purchase new band uniforms. The old uniforms, which have been used ever since Ramsey started, were unanimously voted out in favor of the new ones.

The pep band plays our school song during a pep fest.

The Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Erickson, provided the music at various affairs again this year. The "red vests" performed for the coronation of the Homecoming Queen, provided music for dinner at the U. of M., played for the Variety Show, as well as numerous other shows. The band attended a tri-state Stage Band Contest which was held in March at Eau Claire, Wisconsin. For the first time this year, the Stage Band held a "pops" concert. Members of this group were quite pleased with their successful engagements this year.

With the help of the cheerleaders, the Pep Band provided the enthusiasm necessary to get the student body to really support Ramsey's athletic teams this year. From the looks of the records the teams appreciated them greatly. Ramsey's enthusiasm is well recognized throughout the region.

With the return of Mr. Peterson as the conductor of the Orchestra, came longer, more strenuous practice sessions and regular lessons. The results were clearly noticeable throughout the year as this group presented their wonderful "pops" concert, along with many other concerts in fine style. Even the members of the brass sectional from the Concert Band worked hard to make a very successful year for the Orchestra.

H-E-L-L-O .... Ramsey says Hello!

I have a feeling something's missing!

"Fever" and "Love is Blue" were two of the routines performed by Majorettes this past year. Successful performances made up for long practices and the cold weather endured during football season. In the Spring, tryouts for new majorettes included a routine by each girl and a conference with the past majorettes.

Pep Club members will remember getting their slips signed at games, selling Homecoming buttons, making posters, promoting Sports Appreciation Week, and learning the rules of the sports.

The Ramsey Cheerleaders helped put life into every sports event this year. They practiced every day and maintained the Ramsey image with outside duties, as well as cheering. The Cheerleaders attended cheerleading clinics at Dayton's and at St. Paul Johnson. They were also featured on the WCCO Radio Game of the Week.

G.A.A.

G.A.A. officers this year were president, Becky Brown, vice-president, Carol Sundheim, sec-treas., Cindy Nelson, and recording secretaries, Vicki Steen and Sue Barrett. G.A.A., Girls' Athletic Association, is to girls what competitive athletics is to the boys of Ramsey. The girls got a chance to practice their skill in different sports such as speedball, basketball, volleyball, and tennis, and to compete against other girls while still having a lot of fun. The girls were awarded points at the end of each unit and at the end of two years if they had obtained the required amount of points they were awarded a letter.

The Girls' Track team was organized for its second year at Ramsey again this year. Its first year was very successful. They placed second in the state track meet at the University of Minnesota in the spring of 1967.

Walking down the halls of Ramsey this year, one saw many evidences of athletic achievement. Boys and girls alike wore their letter-sweaters as a show of their accomplishments. This was especially true on Fridays, when sweaters were worn in honor of athletic events. Both organizations, Rams Club and Girl Letterwinners, demanded a certain level of athletic excellence from each individual. When the proper amount of points were accumulated a letter was awarded. As a group the Rams Club sold refreshments at wrestling events and sponsored the freshman-high school dance, featuring the Grasshoppers.

Phy. Ed. assistants are an irreplaceable part of the Phy. Ed. department. Junior and senior girls who were assistants this year, spent one hour each day helping the classes by setting up or checking out equipment, checking attendance, and demonstrating their supreme coordination as an example for the sophomores.

Questions to ask, deadlines to meet.

Eleven veterans of the '67 Rambler returned to The Room this year ready to face the tribulations of editing the yearbook. Deadlines swiftly passed as the old members were joined by ten new staff members. Despite the death of our publisher, very capable co-editors Chris Lehto and Lynne Burnham with the help of our adviser, Mr. McAfee, made order out of chaos. Hopefully the experience gained by the Juniors helped prepare them for the task of producing a yearbook of equal quality next year.

Business Staff collected the payment early in the year from all the students who wanted a '68 Rambler. They assisted throughout the year with the typing, and passed out the yearbooks at the end of the year.

"Say it with Publications"

Quill and Scroll, consisting of editors from all of Ramsey's publications, created the Senior Edition, which reflects the personality of our '67 graduating class. Scope, however reflects on anything from creation to the destruction of humanity. Sandwiched between its new colored covers lie thoughts expressed in various languages. The new advisor, Miss Erickson, their trip to Red Wing and the valuable knowledge accumulated by the staff contributed to the creation of a new look in the Bighorn newspaper. The News Bureau, whose function is to communicate news to the community, carried out their task with extensive newspaper, television, and radio coverage.

Should I check the oil, ma'am?

Ramsey's French, German, and Spanish clubs served as a supplement to language study for many students this year. The clubs commonly met fifth hour, every several weeks.

The German Club produced two short plays which were "The Test", a melodrama, and "The Princess and the Pea", a comedy. Their German Band also made a command performance for the play audience. The French Club presented two French comedies in another evening of cultural entertainment. All the plays were enjoyable, whether one understood what was said or not.

The Spanish Club participated in an "International Night" at Harding High School. They also held a spring banquet and La Casa Coronada.

A.F.S. was a big success this year. This was partially due to the fact that they were fortunate enough to have three A.F.S. students instead of the usual two. One of the main purposes of A.F.S. Club was to raise money so that they could have two again next year. There were many fund raising drives this year, the largest of which was the annual Variety Show, held on January 27. Other projects included the Ukranian Dancers in the fall, a dance after the Ramsey-Mounds View basketball game held on February 27, the movie Arabesque on March 15, the Donaldson's Mardi Gras, and the selling of bonds throughout the year. However, A.F.S. wasn't completely money-concious this year! There were many speakers who showed slides and led discussions dealing with various aspects of life in different countries. We also had non-Americans sharing their experiences and observations of the American way of life. The motivation behind the A.F.S. Club, both in having many speakers and trying to raise enough money for at least two students next year, is trying to create a better understanding between the peoples of the world. A.F.S. stood firmly behind the A.F.S. motto:

'Walk together, talk together
Ye peoples of the world
Then and only then
Shall ye have peace.'

Foreign Relations Through A.F.S.

Fetti describes her life in Ethiopia during an A.F.S. lecture.

Dear Friends:

My A.F.S. year at Ramsey has been an interesting and a very important year in my life. I would like to thank all of you for your generous aid to the A.F.S. program to bring us here. Your wonderful hospitality to the foreign people will leave me with memories of the American people. I'll never forget the experiences I have gained both academically and socially at Ramsey.

Thank You again,

Sincerely,
Fetlework Ketsela

Dear Friends:

This year has convinced me of one thing in particular; that there is no such thing as a typical American. Each person I have met has shown me something different about this country and what it is to be an American. I have made many friends and I am grateful to each one of you in a particular way. I have enjoyed myself, learned a lot and hopefully achieved a small part of the aim of A.F.S. international understanding.

Thank you for making all this possible.

Jim Shillady

I am Homa Bina, Ramsey's A.F.S. student from Iran. I have so much to say about this year that I've been here. But how can I say it in only a few words? I hope you can find from these few words my feelings about this year:

One year full of happiness and kindness.
One year that will be in my mind forever.
I love you,
I love Ramsey,
I love America.

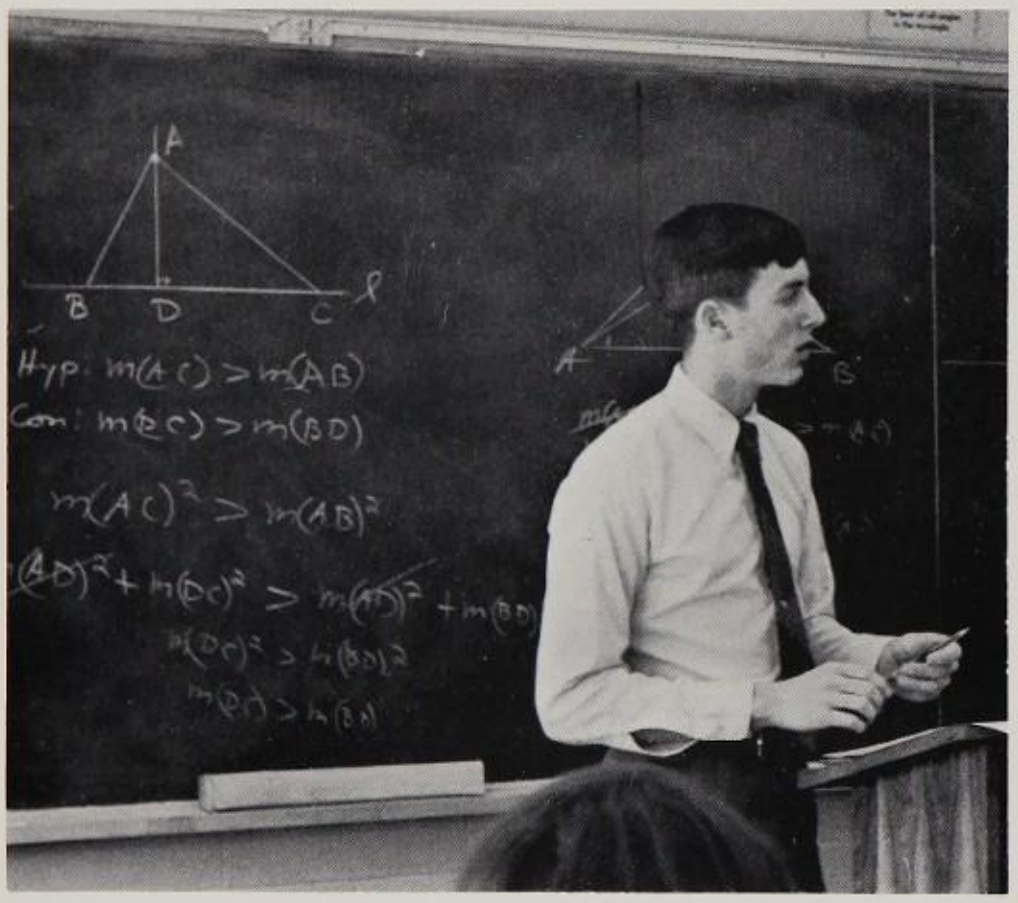
Today's Assistants;

FTA – FIRST ROW: M. Liedholm, G. Christenson, F. Cornelissen, V. Pote, M. Ucko. SECOND ROW: J. Wallings, F. Pinski, J. Kruse, L. Sorenson, R. Christenson. THIRD ROW: J. Croettum, S. McHattie, E. Ready, J. Schultz, K. Madden.



The 1967-68 theme of the Future Teachers of America Club was "Changing Education." As the theme implies, the club explored several phases of experimental education, including Mortessori education and modular scheduling. A few members of Ramsey's faculty presented programs on their philosophies of teaching. This year all programs were open to the student body.

The successful teaching assistant program proved to be advantageous both for the teachers and the students involved. Assistants spent their time tutoring individuals, supervising classes and researching in the library for their teacher.

Tomorrow's Teachers

The teachers' assistants were useful to the science department by helping with the necessary, though routine, preparation for classes. Thus wise teachers are enabled to spend more time teaching with less timely preparation. The biology lab assistants prepared solutions and other media necessary for experiments performed each class period. Besides taking care of the plants and animals in the animal room, catching fish and snails in the aquarium, they wash sand and scoop muck from the pond on field trips. Chemistry lab assistants are also called upon to help set up experiments and mix chemicals. All of the assistants are called at times to play janitor to leaking faucets and flooding sinks, or rescue a teacher in distress with an experiment.

Looking Ahead

Future Homemakers of America, better known as FHA, met again this year under the guidance of Mr. Peterson. Officers were elected with Cindy Nordine as President, Carol Nelson – Vice President, Jan Helbig – Secretary, and Cindy DuFrene – Treasurer. The girls surprised a needy family at Christmas time this year by supplying them with a tree, ornaments, stockings, presents, and a Christmas dinner. During the year they also held an overnight at school, attended district and state conventions, and toured the Betty Crocker kitchens and the Fanny Farmer company.

SOPHOMORE FHA – FIRST ROW: V. Small, D. Johnson, R. Averbeck, J. Hanson, P. Mack, M. Heins, J. Laska, M. Furey, B. Larson, B. Cook, L. Oliver, D. Kaufmann, C. Johnson, K. Schreck. SECOND ROW: K. More than eighty girls were involved in Future Nurses of America this year. They spent their time viewing films, studying health, and listening to various guest speakers. The group toured the Mayo Clinic in Rochester in the spring.

The Junior Red Cross this year sold candles, packed ditty bags for soldiers in Viet Nam and did volunteer work in hospitals. They sponsored a dance to raise funds for youths in disaster areas over the world and tried to get all eighteen year old seniors to donate blood.

Students Help Out

The guidance office assistants helped the secretaries by arranging student appointments with the counselors, filing data and answering the phone. The high school office assistants took in and relayed calls over the switchboard, filed and typed classified information. The attendance office assistants formed the lists of absentees each day and alphabetized all absence excuses this year. Library assistants helped the librarians by checking books and materials in and out and by returning everything to its proper shelf. Supply store assistants were ever-ready with the paperbacks and school supplies this year.

Dittomasters played an important role at Ramsey again this year. Under the supervision of Miss Anzevino, this group assisted teachers in typing dittos and stencils as well as making copies of necessary materials. The girls were paid a nominal fee for each page they typed and copied. They were given special assignments during the year such as typing programs for school events.

In its second year at Ramsey, VICA, Vocational Industrial Club of America, was expanded to include a wider variety of jobs available to boys and girls participating in on-the-job training.

Dittomasters, Nancy Martinson and Coreen Stettner, help teachers by running off dittos.

The Distributive Education Club of America, better known around Ramsey as DECA, was active in promoting vocational understanding and leadership development of its members throughout the year. Each member had on-the-job training during the activity period each day.

Ramsey Office Education Students spent another busy year preparing its members for future work in the field of business. Both of these groups raised funds by selling balloons for Homecoming and candy at athletic events.

Hanson's Heroes

Movies have taken the monotony out of the classroom, if that's possible! Ramsey sophomore, junior, and senior boys participating in the projectionist club have helped to make these methods of education possible. The projectionists have been active in practically every class this year, providing the running of projectors and other audio-visual equipment. Towards the end of the year they moved across the hall to the former district office. The need for more space forced them out of their former audio-visual room and into a larger room.

Lights, Camera, Action

Teachers would never have gotten their films rolling without the AV assistants this year. The AV department is a part of the Roseville Schools Materials Center, which supplies materials to the district for all educational aids.

The Photography Club was active behind the scenes this year, taking pictures of school activities, covering all the lyceums, plays, and sports events. In spite of their space shortage they did a fine job in covering everything from the cafeteria milk fight to graduation exercises.

Concentration, Skill, Dexterity

Following much individual practice and challenging between members, the chess club established a lineup of its top five boards which proved quite successful throughout the season. President Tom Haas played board No. 1, leading the entire team through many successful meets, posting a great final record of 19-1/2 wins against 9-1/2 losses.

All of the various plays, concerts, and other special performances at Ramsey during the course of the year, relied greatly on the efficiency of the stage crew for their success. No group was ever at a loss for proper lighting, audio equipment, or special effects, as worthy stage crew hands met all challenges and demands made on them.

TELL ME WHY

Tell me why
little boys skin their knees and miss warm supper
and get all dirty
and wet and smelly,

why
little boys sweat, and run in rain and never stop and never care,

why
little boys explore a cave, swim in the river or just play tag
. . . and miss another supper,

why
little boys race around a lake
fall down and trip
and loose their way,
but never stop or quit the race,

why
little boys spend their money on bats that will not last the summer on balls to go through pane glass windows,

why
even rules and men unyoung can't stop a boy from play.

don't tell me why,
because even big boys don't know.

but the little boys,
in their faces . . . . . one together
they know.

they sweat
and smile
and cry and learn
they know each other . . . . . they know . . . .

Ramsey's 1967 track team had a spectacular season finishing third in conference, tying conference champ Mounds View in district, and placing fourth out of 23 schools in regional competition. Among the outstanding players cited by Coach Molitor were Tom Steiner, Ron Buckman, Al Arvidson, Steve Howard and Pete Rhodes, all who were region or conference champs. New school records were set in the 880 yd. run, pole vault, 880 yd. relay, 440 yd. relay and mile run. Captains of the '67 team were Jamie Cochrane and Craig Troge. Tom Steiner and Al Arvidson will head the '68 squad.

"The team was very coachable and had good leadership in Larry Nelson and Paul Steneroden." Both Larry and Paul were the team captains. Ramsey placed third in the conference standings. Larry, Bob Greer and John Yilek led the team to seventh place in the district playoffs. In a non-conference match with Murray, the Rams overwhelmed the Pilots, 18-0.

1967 was a fair year for baseball at Ramsey. The Rams won five of their eleven games during the conference season and beat Mahtomedi before being defeated at the district level. Co-captains were Mike Kehoe and Jim Axtell. Axtell, named by head coach Mr. Carlin as the most outstanding player, was an all-conference selection. The team looks forward to '68 with eight returning varsity players.

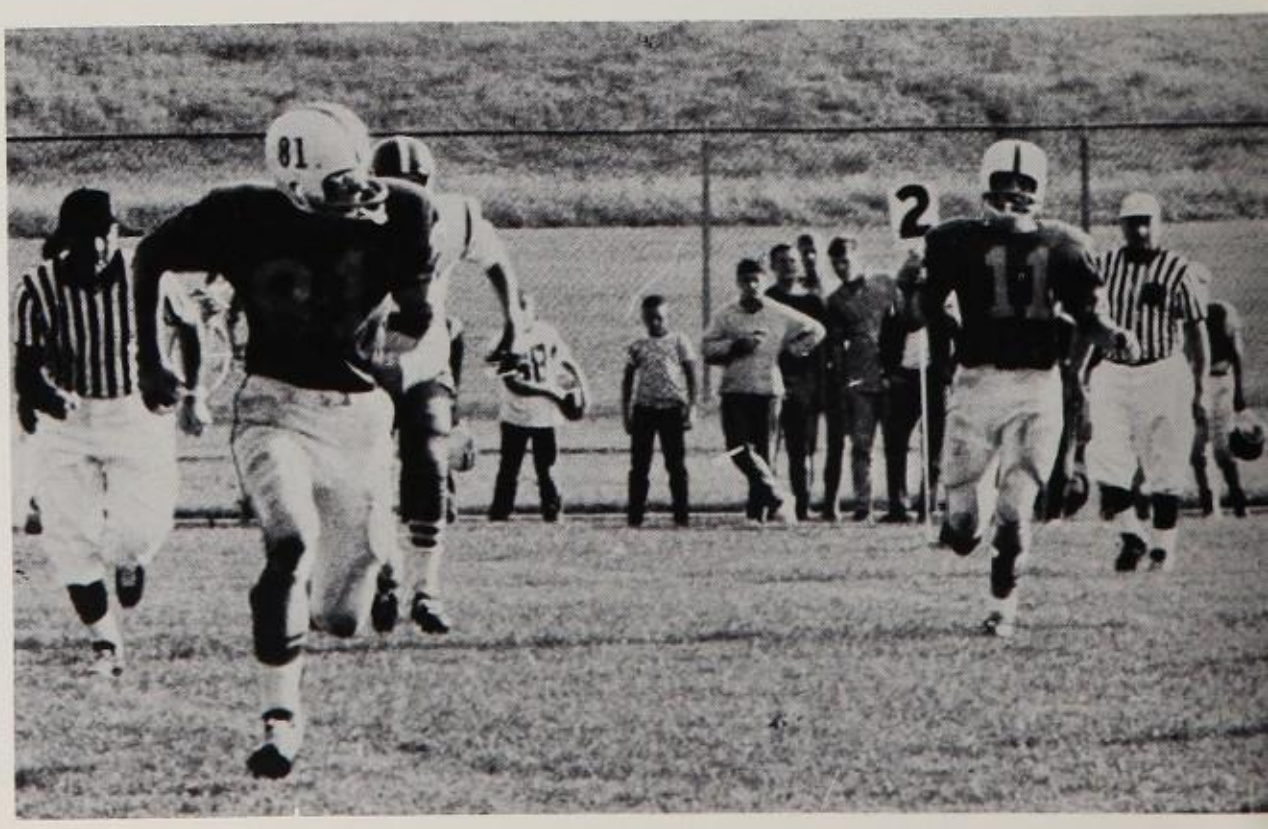
The 1967 Football team averaged over twenty-five points per game. "This year's team was as great an offensive team as I've ever had," commented Coach Overski. There was a great showing of team spirit, as well as unity and high morale. The ball club was small, but made up for this handicap by being fast and aggressive. Tom Howard and Mike Zick were the team captains. Tom was a halfback and Mike as a fullback, as well as Rick Webb as quarterback and Larry Amsden as an end received all-conference awards for outstanding performances. Ramsey tied for second in the conference losing only two of its games. Coach Overskei commented further on the future of the team; "We will have a good nucleus coming back."



About to be tackled, Bill Green carries the ball for extra yardage.

This season Ramsey joined two other Suburban Conference schools in offering soccer. It proved to be a welcome addition to the usual fall sports and Ramsey's team was surprisingly successful, finishing third out of the nine participating schools. Head coach Larold Peterson named Steve Mackey, Steve Bensen, and Dan Koren among the outstandng players. Because soccer is so new there was no district or regional competition. With many returning varsity players 1968 will be a good season or better if the student body can share the enthusiasm of the team.

Cross Country Team Tops in Conference

For the eleventh season out of thirteen, Ramsey's cross country team placed first in conference. They were defeated in district by White Bear and placed third in region behind White Bear and Mounds View. The year was summarized by head coach Mr. Busch as "disappointing" since "pride was lacking" in the potentially terrific team. Steve Holloway was named most valuable after placing first for Ramsey in every meet. The team's 1967 captain was senior Bill McGuire.

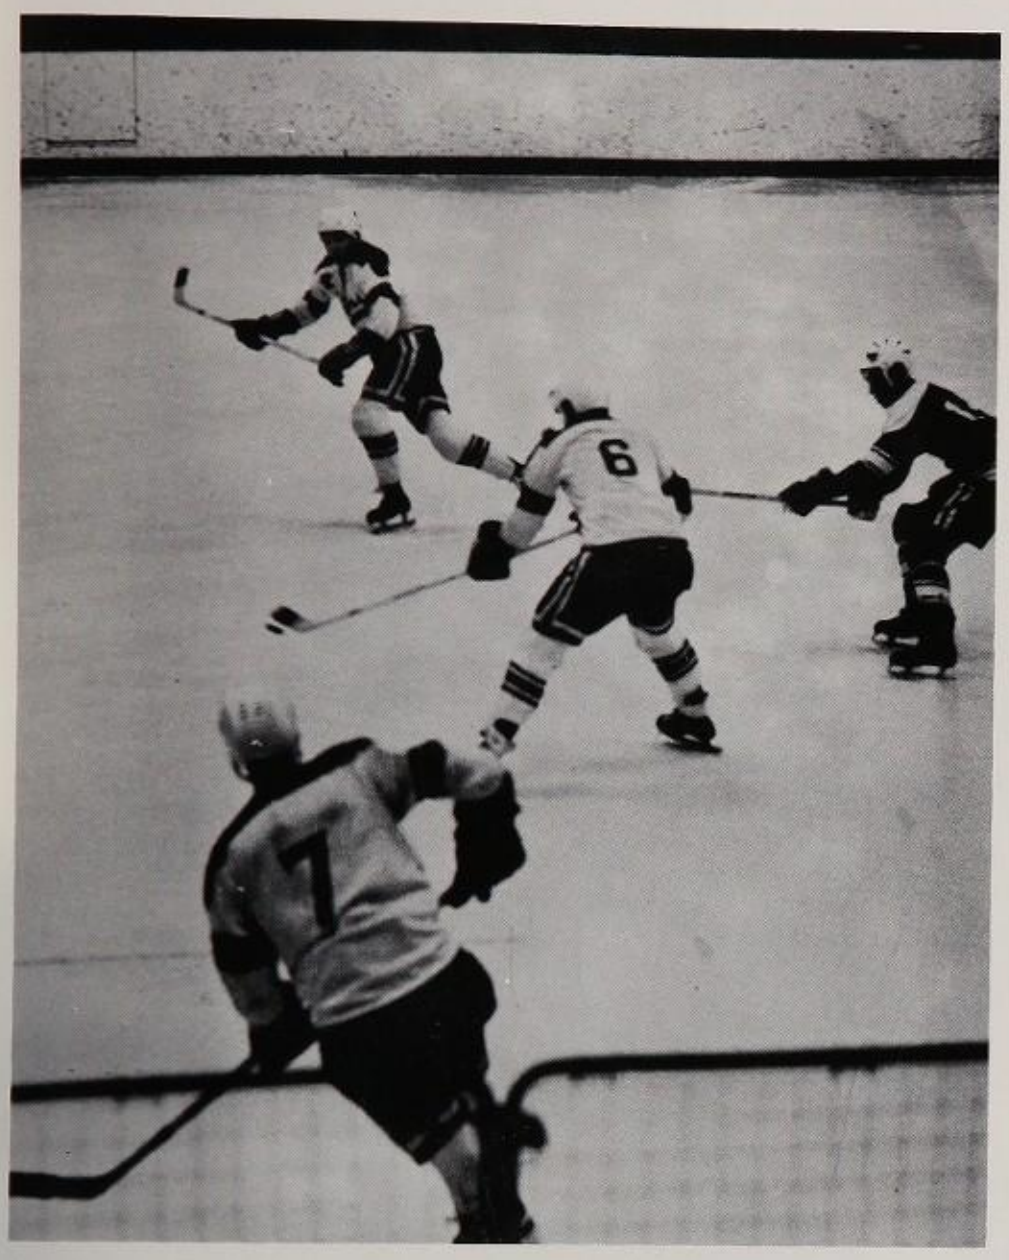
Icemen Tougher Than Their Record Shows



The date was Saturday, January 20th. The place was Aldrich Arena. The situation was a near-riot. Hundreds of hysterically screaming teenagers were pouring onto the ice to congratulate Their Team, the Team that had just upset the previously undefeated hockey power Mounds View. The team itself was a mound of blue and white near the nets. It was a tournament game all the way and had the excitement of a tourney game's conclusion as coach Gordie Genz slid across the ice to join his ecstatic players. This was Ramsey's 1968 hockey team, a group of hard fighters whether winning or losing. The Rams' guaranteed an exciting game to every fan as well as a close contest to the strongest opponents. The St. Paul Pioneer Press rated them 14th in the state with a 16-6 final record. Daryle Goodmanson and Larry Amsden, seniors, were co-captains leading the Rams to third place in conference standings. Ramsey was outstanding in non-conference action also. Skyline Conference champ St. Paul Park fell to a 9-1 defeat before the Rams and Elk River received an 11-1 setback in quarter finals. Roseville Night at the arena was celebrated by the traditional victory over Kellogg. Outstanding players were Bill Green, junior who was nominated as the conference's outstanding defenseman, and senior wing Daryle Goodmanson. Receiving honorable mention awards were Larry Amsden, Tom Howard, Steve Warner, and number one goalie Rick Spies.

Although the Rams' final dual meet record was 5-6, many losses were suffered in close meets. In fact, four meets were lost by a total of only twenty points. The team took third place in both the conference and the region, and sixth place in state competition. In additional meets, the Mankato and Northwest invitationals, Ramsey took second and fourth. While the team was well rounded, with adequate strength on every piece of equipment, it prided itself on having the strongest group of horsemen in the state. Brian Walter, Steve Benson, and Ted Stocker were voted all-conference, and co-captains Benson and Stocker were also crowned State champions. Steve took a first on the parallel bars and Ted won his crown for his still rings performance.

Keller executes a perfect dive.

"The Ramsey tankers under the leadership of co-captains Steve Howard and Steve Holloway worked well all year," said Coach Shira. Ramsey's team depth led them to the district victory as well as placing them in the seventeenth position in the state meet. Ramsey left the conference with a three way tie with Mounds View and Stillwater and a third in the conference relays. With winning meets comes setting records. Holloway met the qualifying time for All-American selection and a new 100 yard breastroke record. Jim Challas and the four members of the 400 yard relay team Howard, Challas, Doug Moore, and Duncan Kirkwood also set new swim records.

Grapplers Hold Second In District

Ramsey's wrestling teams had another fine year, placing fourth in the conference with an overall record of eight wins and four losses, but sending four wrestlers through districts for second place. Senior Dan Quanbeck and junior Dan Johnson took third places, Harvey Helgason, junior, was runner-up, and Mike Labalestra, junior, was district champion in his 120 weight class. Labalestra also captured the region championship and Quanbeck and Helgason held thirds for Ramsey's fifth place regional standing.

In other action, Ramsey placed second in the River Falls invitational and once again, after a year, beat Anoka to re-capture the huge Dave T. Nelson memorial trophy. This trophy, in memory of an Anoka student turned Ramsey student teacher who was killed in a helicopter accident, is displayed by the victor of Ramsey-Anoka wrestling matches. The school which wins the trophy for three straight years is allowed to keep it. This year's tri-captains were seniors Dan Quanbeck, Bernie Winkelman and Mike Zick. Among the outstanding wrestlers were Mike Labalestra and senior Rick Noer, who were both named to the all-conference team for the second year in a row.

This was the first year that Ramsey cagers have ever won the conference championship. They beat Mounds View in the final game and went on to win the district title, and consolation in the region. During the season, Tom Steiner and Rick Webb chalked up enough points to earn second and third leading scorers, respectively, in the conference, and all conference honors. Those players that were sighted as outstanding were Webb, Steiner, Bill McGuire, Tim Kobernat, John Sirny and Tom Hill, captain. Finishing the year with a seventeen and six record, Head Coach Bob Erdman said that this was his "most gratifying year in basketball."

STUDENT LIFE

I

I would like to pass through
Without being known,
Without letting on
That I cared here.
To sweep through these rooms
With this wanting brain
And add to my vacuum
Awareness my own.

(Why should we so quickly?
We fear that we must
Race by all so blindly,
And strut to grow old.)

But up from the dust
Rise Beowulf and Macbeth,
Bisecting angles,
And the bones of the arm.
We gather our three years
Into one minute brain,
And sort through the murk and trivia,
A vague part to retain.
And from this the balance
We'll upstart and leave;
The experienced and mature
We'll claim as our own.

Too old
And too bothered
We'll sink into sanctum.
And there in our cells
Each to solo cry in a drone.

II

I would like to creep through
With somewhere in my step.
To clear my way past mankind
And be a part of this student life.
A fact learned by sweat
Will only grow to be clear
If it's built and finally molded
By students, desiring to grow old.

To communicate but not deceit,
To learn and mature;
If you wish to —
Pass through silently,
But here we'll keep
A small part of your own.

It's What's Happening

The Senior Class of 1968 brought change in the year of 1967. In the past, Ramsey has had what may be termed as "traditional" proms, but the prom of 1967 was a complete break from dainty, floral arrangements and romantic illusions. In their places were gigantic crepe-paper flowers and walls covered with posters and cartoons. A house of cards, dice, and an exaggerated chess set helped to complete the pop art theme, "It's What's Happening." And something did happen. As couples strolled through an art gallery on their way to have their pictures taken, a frantic search for a missing contact lens went on in the gymnasium. Flashlights were brought out and people crowded around to help find the missing contact lens. It was found and so the prom ended happily for the girl who lost the contact and for everyone else.

Right: There was a house of cards but no gambling.

They couldn't stop talking about the decorations.

Right: Oh for the power of a flower!

The grand processional.

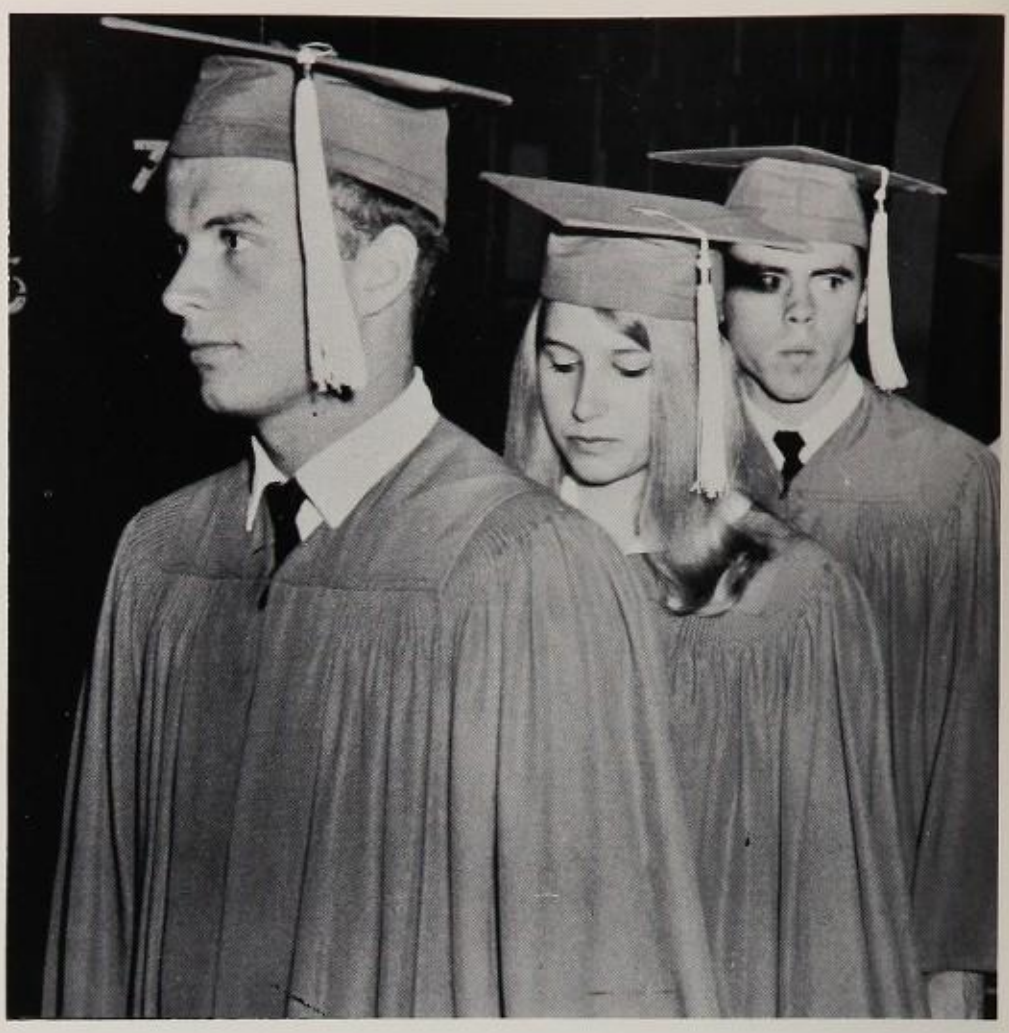
Before and After

The class of 1967 was graduated from Alexander Ramsey with the two traditional ceremonies, Baccalaureate and Commencement. On Sunday, June 4, the Reverend David W. Preus addressed the class and guests in a speech entitled, "Leave It Better Than You Found It."

The following evening the 386 members of the class were graduated. State Commissioner of Education, Mr. Duane Matthies spoke of "Another Chance." Principal Curtis Johnson presented the class to Mr. George Seaberg, Chairman of the Board of Education, who awarded the diplomas.

There were feelings of tension as well as relief combined with a sense of accomplishment as the Seniors went through the final ceremonies. Graduation was a climax of sorts for most of the students, especially for Martha Verbrugge, Outstanding Senior girl, and for Jim Axtell, the 1967 Alex Award winner, chosen best all-around members of the class.

Many other thoughts were on the minds of the graduates throughout the ceremonies. Some were concentrating on the plans for after graduation. Others were thinking back over the many preparations made throughout the year for the "big moment": senior pictures, announcements, caps and gowns, and skip day.



The ceremony began with "Pomp and Circumstance."

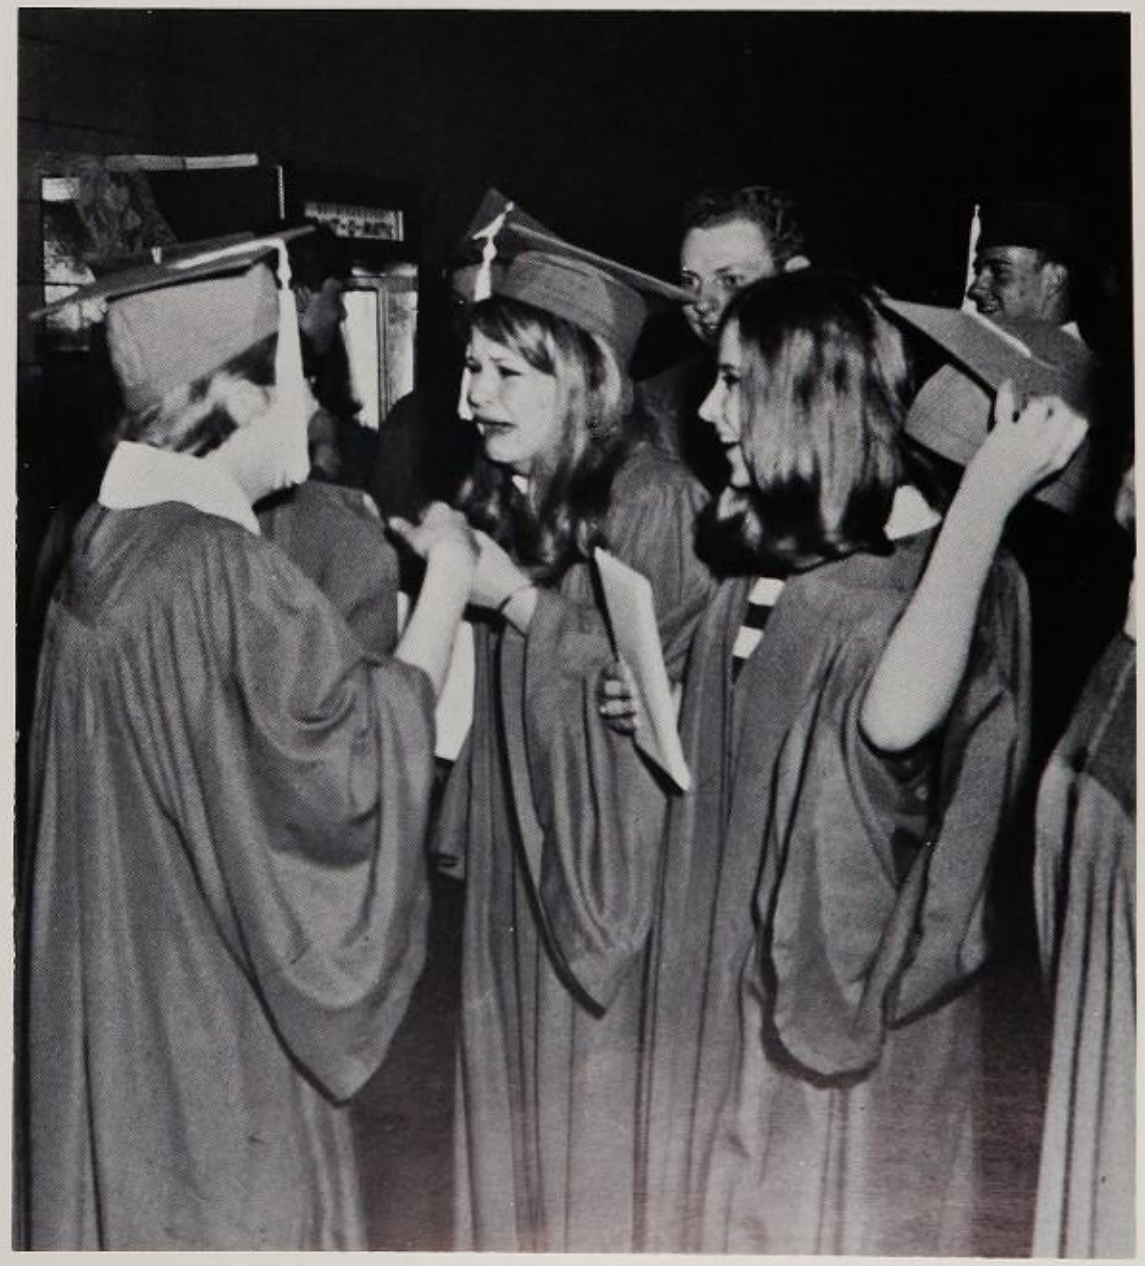
Those diplomas made most people feel pretty good.



Tears and smiles marked the evening.

Baby Ram Reigns

Tom Hill, a runner-up, takes a big lick.

"Old MacDonald had a farm, and on that farm . . ." With this song began the coronation for Ramsey's second annual United Fund Contest.

The coronation marked the end of a week of campaigning and voting by Ramseyites in an attempt to raise money for the United Fund program. Ramsey was electing into royalty its' first Baby Ram. Baby pictures of 10 Ramsey athletes, chosen at random, were posted in the hall by the cafeteria. Then votes were sold for the small price of five cents. The grand sum of $27. was collected for a worthy cause.

At the United Fund Lyceum, tension mounted as the 10 candidates, and an unexpected contestant, our new Assistant Principal Mr. Ramseth, made their appearance on stage. They were all appropriately dressed in romp ers, shorts, and T-shirts. Finalists licked their suckers in apprehension while waiting for the final outcome of the contest to be announced. At last a man was chosen worthy of the title Baby Ram. John Goserud won this coveted position and reigned through the halls of Ramsey throughout the year.

Prospero's Magic Cape

"I am like stone, I cannot move."

"Set me free Prospero."

Even though the spring play, "Prospero's Magic Cape", didn't pull last year's Senior class out of debt, it was a success in itself. This adaption from Shakespeare's "The Tempest" saw a tremendous amount of work poured forth by a large number of students and faculty members. With the help of student director, Sue Downing, Mr. Ohman and eight performers began the rituals of rehearsals. A cave fire, a thunder storm from the sea, and flower tricks were a few of Prospero's magical productions.

Opening night saw an enthused student audience participate in and respond to the efforts of their peers. That in itself was reward and satisfaction enough for all persons involved in the production.

"Abracadabra – Magistrum! The spell is now removed."

A Ramsey Homecoming

Da dee dee ah da da – Now we take you back to Athens, Greece.

Ramsey's fourteenth annual Homecoming activities proved more exciting than ever this year. A majority of the students became involved as fun and work made the week rush by.

It all began with the naming of the queen candidates; Carmen, Gayle, Candy, Sue, and Connie. From then on there was feverish work on the candidates' slogans, posters, and skits; on floats for the parade, and on the many small details that made Homecoming a success.

Monday morning the campaigns began as posters were put up and campaign buttons passed out. The skits on Wednesday ranged in variety from muscular Greeks to the 6:00 news. Amidst fanfare and soft music by the stage band, Laurie Potter crowned Candy Anderson the 1967 Homecoming queen on Thursday afternoon. The day of the big game saw Ramsey "Ram-sack the Warriors" 27-6. Also on Friday, the parade before the game was hilighted by nineteen floats. The dance Friday evening was a final climax to an exciting week.

And the Chase Is On

The Sparklers . . . root beer . . . Marryin' Sam . . . wilted corsages . . . wedding rings and marriage licenses . . . This unique combination can have meaning for only one event . . . Sadie Hawkins dance! Ramsey seniors witnessed the Sadie for the third time this year and it is still a novelty. Posters, made by Canteen Council, were posted on the hallowed hallways 3 weeks before the big night. Excitement was aroused then and didn't die until 11:00 p.m., Friday, November 10. The dance was officially over at that time, but for many, celebration continued into the early hours of Saturday morning.

Jan Niemiec's chick was something else.

Sweeney Todd the Barber

Sweeney polishes one of his customers off.

"I'm Sweeney Todd the Barber and wicked thoughts I harbor" was just one of the many songs in the musical melodrama "Sweeney Todd the Barber" presented this fall by Ramsey students. Under the direction of Mr. Hanily and assistant director Pam Carr, the cast and crew worked steadily for three weeks. Cast members had to master their own unique character and project the mood of the play, while crew members busied themselves with set construction, make-up details, arranging costumes, props, gags, and light and sound effects. Opening night saw a polished performance of the melodrama, complete with hero, villian, distressed maiden, fight scenes, and "strobe" lights. No one will forget Sweeney's famous last words, "Ho, ho, ho, I'll polish him off".

Flake Out

The second annual Snow Week was welcomed by all students despite the lack of snow. Nominations for Snow Week Royalty started the snowball rolling. Skits for each of the week's activities, and the coronation of the Royalty took place at the Monday morning assembly. The first clue for the "booty", found later in the week by Rita Christiansen, was given by "John and Phyllis." Mrs. Schmookler's second hour "dogs" won the Cross-Country tobaggon races in 3 minutes 8.4 seconds. The German Club outran all other Snow Sculpture entries with their Volkswagon, winning first place. Sue Kirchoff cleverly carried off the Tall Tale contest prize, outwitting all other writers. "C. J.'s Junior Byrdmen" became the broomball champions of Ramsey by defeating Schmookler's second hour 3-1. The Laurel and Hardy flicker "Jitterbug", Friday night, and the Snow Dance on Saturday evening featuring the "Delcounts", climaxed a wonderful week of snow business.

A Ramsey Kaleidoscope

Sponsored by the American Field Service, Ramsey's variety show presented a true kaleidoscope of student talent. The audience will long remember such highlights as the Stupremes, the Philipine dancers, and the girl who liked onions. Each of Ramsey's three AFS exchange students performed a number related to his own country and culture. Masters of Ceremony Dave and Bob kept the show on the road that proved to be the road to success.

For the second year in succession, the French Club presented an evening of French plays. This year they were the two comedies "Rosalie" and "Les Deux Sourds". French tartes and 'eclaires were sold during intermission, and the audience was further entertained by French singing.

Jackie,

This year has gone by pretty fast - lets hope next year does the same. Be good this summer and maybe I'll see ya at "Hoaries" sometime.

Linda
(Homely)

Dear Jackie-
This has really been a fast year. It will end and then will start your senior year. I guess that then will go faster, and then high school graduate. You have fine memories and it will always be that I'm and it is really fast and may God bless you and keep you safe, always - Kathy Wenhold
